Miss MSU

The annual Miss MSU pageant, held on Friday, February 27, culminated with the crowning of Annette Popa as Miss MSU. The ten candidates participated in evening gown, swim suit and talent competitions, with the five finalists also answering impromptu questions. First runner-up Martha MacDonald also received the Miss Congeniality Award. Second runner-up was Tana Streeter; third runner-up, Sue Messmer; and fourth runner-up, Dana Agnew. Other candidates were Jennifer Blume, Lori Brockway, Gail Decker, Angela Dye, and Randi Keene. Miss MSU, Annette Popa, is pictured at top right on the left-hand page.

The Grossery is a student-owned and -operated, socially oriented fraternal group organized for the purpose of making available high quality, low-cost produce in bulk quantities. In its endeavor, the Grossery was aided by a number of intelligent coeds, who, in a large sense, made the Grossery. Pictured at left are the "Grossery Bags." They include Jeanne Tognetti and Kay Dern, seated; Cherie Chilton and Deanna Dormaier, kneeling; and Jan Hanson and Barb Hunter, standing.

It was a disappointing year for Coach Tom Parac's Bobcats. The young inexperienced club was plagued by injuries and ended the season with a one and eight record. Typical of their sporadic game efforts was the Bobcat-Grizzley Game during which the Bobcats had two excellent chances to win the game in the final quarter but failed. Overall the Cats outplayed the Grizzley team —controlling the ball for 79 plays compared to the Grizzlies' 36—and, according to Coach Parac, "Our kids played well enough to win and deserved to win." Because of errors in crucial spots and an inability to keep their scoring drive alive, the MSU team lost. Kicking specialist Frank Kalfoss made an attempt for a 41-yard field goal in the final quarter of that Grizzley Game, but the kick was wide to the right.

Individual honors this year went to Gary Gustafson, "Man of the Year" and "Top Defensive Player;" Jay Groepper, "Top Offensive Player;" and Mike Vollmer, "Most Inspirational Player."

Those Bobcat "boosters" who spurred the MSU football team and fans to higher hopes and who reflected the feelings of all those involved in the sport of "blood, sweat, and tears," included Bonnie Tuss, this page, right; Penny Keefe, below left; Martha MacDonald, below right; Cheerqueen Bonnie Allen, right page, top; Sheila McNellis, bottom left; Lanet Strobel, bottom middle; and Nancy Morris, bottom right.

Montana State University's Ski Team placed second to "skimeister" University of Montana at the Bridger Bowl Invitational January 10-11. With skiing condition termed "great" because of the hard, packed snow on the two days, MSU was unable to come back closer than two points after lagging seven points after the first day's events. On February 1, the team placed fifth in the International Collegiate Meet at Banff, Alberta, Canada. According to Coach Bob Beck, most of the team had had experience in junior national meets with Bob Moss, Ken Patterson and Dick Prugh veterans of the last two Big Sky Championship teams in alpine events. Another team member about whom Coach Beck was optimistic was Sam Bartow—MSU's leader in Nordic events.

CARRERA

Wrestling

This has been a great year for Herb Agocs' Montana State University Wrestling Team. After a slow start fall quarter, winter quarter brought three new matmen—Bill Spring of Bozeman, Bob Koyama of Hardin and Marc Flaherty of Missoula. Before the Christmas break, the Cats had a 2-2 record, but after Christmas—with the addition of these three wrestlers—the team won the next ten matches. The Cats lost to Washington State and Oregon, but, each of these teams was "a real buzz saw," according to Assistant Coach Bob Wendell. Strong competition was expected with Idaho State for the Big Sky Crown—the Cats won the crown in 1964, 1965, and 1966, while Idaho State captured it during the period 1967-69. A highpoint for the team during the 1969-70 year was the 34-8 victory over the University of Montana.

O.S.U.

Rifle Team

The Montana State Rifle Team started the 1969 season well as the women's team captured first place and the men's teams took second at the Missoula Invitational. Both teams were paced by Karen Griffith, who led both women's and men's teams in high score for the match. At the Cheney Invitational in Washington standouts included Karen Griffith, again, who won the high women's award; Mac Clark, who placed first in high standing; and Toni Manus, who captured first in the kneeling competition and had the high overall score. Mrs. Manus is one of the finest women shooters in the nation. In 1969 she won the Montana Conventional Women's Gallery Championship and the Sectional Indoor Championship sponsored by the Missoula Rifle Club. In other competition the MSU shooters placed sixth in a field of thirty of the nation's best teams at the Kansas State University Invitational after defeating both the Air Force Academy and the University of Alaska in a preliminary meet.

Rodeo

The Montana State University men s rodeo team, led by high point scorers Marvin Joyce and Terry Wagner, took second in the region for the 1968-69 season. For the past 12 years the team has not failed to place higher than third in the region.

The crowning glory of the season was the defeat of the Grizzlies. Both the men's and women's teams outscored the University of Montana teams in every event.

The mens' team also took first place at the Eastern Montana Rodeo and at the MSU Intercollegiate Rodeo.

The men's team was composed of two veterans, Jerry McCormick and Terry Wagner, and four first-year men—Gary Hamilton, Marvin Joyce, Steve McNeil and Dean Perkins.

The men's team led the region throughout the major part of the season and would have taken the crown except for "a fired-up Havre team at the Northern Montana Rodeo," said team members.

The three girls—Carol Daley, Mary Potter and Carla McNeil—won the regional title easily. There was hardly a doubt about their superiority.

Carol Daley was the high scorer, placing consistently highest in the barrel racing, goat tying, and breakaway roping events.

Both teams went to the National Collegiate Rodeo Championships at Deadwood, South Dakota, this year.

Terry Wagner placed fifth in the total-point standings. Wagner also took second place in the calf roping, third in the ribbon roping and fourth in the steer wrestling events.

The women's team did not do as well, but had two members placing—Carol Daley, fifth in barrel racing, and Mary Potter, fourth in goat tying.

Track

The Bobcat Track Team began the year well with seconds in the Washington State Indoor Invitational and Banana Belt Relays in Lewistown, Idaho; and firsts in the MSU Indoor Invitational and the Eastern Montana Indoor Invitational. However, the Cats ran into stiffer competition as the season progressed and did not do as well.

According to Coach Dick Bowman, "The Cats have individual standouts but lack depth. This lack of depth and strength proved quite a handicap in the later part of the season. The lack was felt mostly in the sprints, the hurdle and the distance departments."

The top returnees from last year proved to be the mainstay of the team. Pictured above and bottom left on right page is Jim Tillman, the holder of the Big Sky record in the broad jump; top left, right page, Nyles Humphrey, clearing the bar at the MSU Indoor Invitational; and below right, right page, Sam Verona, voted the Most Improved Bobcat Trackman.

MSU FOURTH IN BIG SKY CHAMPIONSHIPS

Golf

The Montana State golfers—under Head Coach Bob Beck—had a tough season with their strongest opponent being the weather.

Probably the worst blow of the season was the one to seventeen loss to the University of Montana.
The team took third in the Eastern Montana Invitational and beat Flathead Community College 12-6.

A shortened practice schedule caused by the weather and stiffer competition limited the team to fourth place in the Big Sky Championships.

Overall, the Cats showed a marked improvement over last year with a record of three wins and three losses.

Teammates Jim Kernagan and Nick Fullerton were standouts in conference play. Fullerton finished second in the Big Sky Championships and went to the National Collegiate Athletic Association Championships in Miami, Florida.

The Bobcat tennis team faired poorly in conference action, tying for last place with Idaho State in the Big Sky Conference. Posting a 1-4 record, the Bobcats were one of the few teams that did not have the use of indoor courts for early practice. In addition, the team members were mostly freshmen or sophomores and lacked match experience. A number of the players indicated that the lack of a scholarship program was an even greater handicap.

Tennis

Baseball

"When you win three out of four games with the University of Montana you had a good season," commented Head Baseball Coach Dobbie Lambert. The Cats' baseball team came up with a respectable 10-16 record against some of the toughest teams in the northwest. They finished fourth in the conference, with the Grizzlies placing last.

The Cats started slow but "really jelled as we went and played some fine baseball," according to Lambert. The squad had a tough time in the pre-season Banana Belt Tournament, "mainly because we were unable to practice outdoors before the tournament because of the weather," said Lambert.

Although the Cats' hitting was not too good overall, some individuals ended up with good RBI and hitting records. Most outstanding was Terry Quinn, a freshman, who hit for .415.

Who were the people who made the initial student appearance on campus this fall? The majority of them were either freshmen or transfer students on the MSU campus for what has been termed "Freshman Orientation Week." Besides these students, the Sophomore social honoraries—the Spurs and Fangs—appeared early to help acquaint the newcomers with Montana State University.

When the new students arrived on Sunday, September 21, they were greeted by the Spurs and Fangs who helped settle each student in his dormitory room. All was ready for the influx of 2,484 students.

The week of general orientation included the ever-present achievement tests and a beanie dance.

One campus tradition was reinstated this year—the whitewashing of the "M." The 1968-69 Freshman Class had received a year of "grace" because the "M" was in the process of repair. No such "grace" year was offered the 1969-70 Frosh.

Orientation

An attempt was made by some freshmen ("aided and abetted" by the Independent Students Association) to institute a new tradition—that of burning the "beanies" and the Fangs and Spurs' stockades. But the attempt could be termed a failure because no more than six beanies (one of which was a beanie worn by a student who was a freshman during Fall Quarter of 1961) were thrown into the fire. In addition, the Spurs and Fangs succeeded in rescuing the stockades and filling them with some Frosh who were not wearing the "proper headgear."

An estimated 1,500 Montana State University alumni were on campus October 17 and 18 for the 1969 Homecoming festivities which included the crowning of Carolyn Vick as Homecoming Queen.

Miss Vick was chosen during a campuswide student election on Thursday, October 16, from a field of three candidates, which included—in addition to the new queen—Peggy Edie and Debbie Jorgenson.

A special panel discussion for the alumni got things underway on Friday afternoon.

Topic of the discussion was "Student Participation in University Decision," with student panelists Bob Brown (MSU student body president) and Mike McCurry (president, Independent Students (Association) participating. Other panel members were John Langenbach and William Walter, MSU faculty members; Lee Walker, an alumnus from Great Falls; and William Johnstone, acting MSU president.

Friday evening during the New York Rock and Roll Band Show, Miss Vick was crowned the 1969 Homecoming Queen.

Winner of the float competition in the traditional Homecoming parade—with the theme of "Comics in the Sixties"—was Newman Club with their "Batmobile."

The highlight of the Homecoming Game, which pitted Weber State University against the Bobcats was a field goal kicked by Frank Kalfoss during the game's first quarter. This three-point score put the Bobcats ahead—but only temporarily. Weber State beat the MSU team 53 to 3.

International Bazaar

MSU's second annual International Bazaar featured the sale of more than 2,000 different imported items, foreign food booths and continuous American and foreign entertainment during the two-night event. Proceeds from the Bazaar—held November 7-8—went for scholarships for students from abroad who are studying at MSU. According to Helen Simpson, MSU foreign student advisor, "The scholarships are important, but the real value of the bazaar is in the friendships that develop between the American and foreign students who work together to put on the program."

new and interesting "happening" occurred at the SU Fieldhouse November 13-14—the Peace Fair. ock trials, "peace" skits, draft advice and the sale f various artifacts of the hippie and peace cultures ighlighted the two-day get-together.

Peace Fair

Christmas Sing

MERRY CHRISTMAS

Madrigal Dinner

Christmas means different things to different people, but at MSU no one can avoid hearing about or attending the two Christmas events on campus—the Christmas Sing and the Madrigal Dinner. Attendance at the Christmas Sing has increased so much in recent years that it is now held in the MSU Fieldhouse rather than in the gymnasium; and tickets for the Music Department sponsored Madrigal Dinner are sold out far in advance. All living groups on campus—including dorms and Greek houses—participate in the Sing. Music sung ranges from classical hymns to folk ballads. The menu for the Madrigal Dinner is one that was typical for Christmas in "Olde England."

"Romanoff and Juliet"

Peter Ustinov's "Romanoff and Juliet" —a gentle satire about an American girl who falls in love with a Russian boy—was presented November 12-15.

"Carmen"—an opera in four acts by George Bizet with its story written by Prosper Merimee—was presented to MSU students and area residents on January 13, 14, 16, and 17. The opera was a joint effort by the theater arts department and the music department. "Carmen" is the story of a "flirtatious woman—Carmen—who wins the love of several men and, when she does, discards them."

"Carmen"

The Apple Tree

The MSU Drama Department cast of "The Apple Tree" toured under the sponsorship of the USO and the AETA to the Defense Department's Pacific Command during Spring Quarter. The three-act musical comedy by Jerry Bock and Sheldon Harnick, as presented by the MSU cast, is actually three one-act plays—an adaptation of Mark Twain's "Diary of Adam and Eve," a modern fairy tale by Jules Feiffer—"Passionella," and a variety show susbtituted for the third act. Cast members included Rusty Swingle, Steve Cordes, Gary Breed, Karen Kamhoot, Joe Fitch, and Jerry Schneider

Chamber Choir

Music

With emphasis increasing in liberal arts areas at Montana State University, student interest in music is on the rise. Diversification of music groups has also occurred, as evidenced by the number of band and choral groups. Events sponsored by the Music Department this year included the Madrigal Dinner, the St. Cecelia Day Concert, the production of "Carmen" in conjunction with theater arts, and a summer tour in Europe for Chorale.

Winter Carnival

The Montana State University Ski Club Winter Carnival was held on February 20, 21, and 22, this year with most of the activities taking place at Bridger Bowl. Crazy races, snow sculptures, and the crowning of Roxanna Gordon and Randy Yerigan as Ski Queen and King highlighted the weekend events.

A demonstration to protest campusing of MSU women students and the hours for freshman women was held last spring. The peaceful protest took place on the front steps of Montana Hall—the main administration building on campus. Also at issue was open housing. The question here involved invasion of privacy if men were allowed in the women's dorm or if women were allowed in the men's dorm.

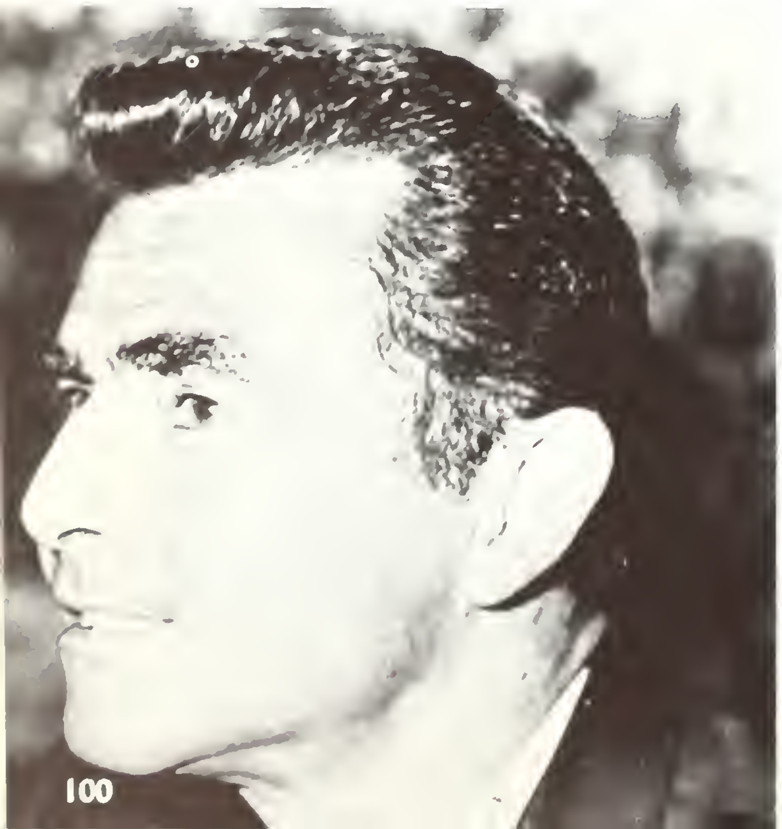
Football Stadium

After students last year turned down, by a 66-vote margin, a new football stadium for MSU, a committee was appointed by the late President Leon H. Johnson to re-consider the stadium and other needs in the university's building program. The committee recommended construction of both a football stadium and track field and a new physical education and recreation complex. On December 11, students voted to approve these two proposals. To quell fears that the stadium would be built first and the PE Complex later or not at all, Acting President William Johnstone stated that construction would begin simultaneously on the two projects.

Rod Serling
Chet Huntley

National mass media personalities Rod Serling, below, and Chet Huntley, right and bottom, spoke to students, university officials and Bozeman area residents during Winter Quarter. Serling, writer-producer of the "Twilight Zone," spoke on the "The Challenge of the Mass Media in the 1970's." Huntley, NBC news commentator, outlined plans that he and Chrysler Corporation have for the development of a multi-million dollar recreational area south of Bozeman to be called "Big Sky." Summer and winter facilities are proposed at the Lone Mountain site which is located between West Yellowstone and Bozeman.



Night Life

Night life for MSU students varies with individual tastes. Sports events, speakers, musical groups, dances, movies, and, of course, bars provide the students with entertainment throughout the year.

Debate and Forensics

"Resolved that the federal government grant a percentage of the income tax revenue to the states." This was the topic selected for college debate squads for the 1969-70 school term by a committee of members of national forensic honoraries. This "revenue-sharing topic" provided the basis for the winning debate teams at MSU. Areas of collegiate forensic competition besides debate in which MSU students participated included extemporaneous speaking, oral interpretation, and oratory.

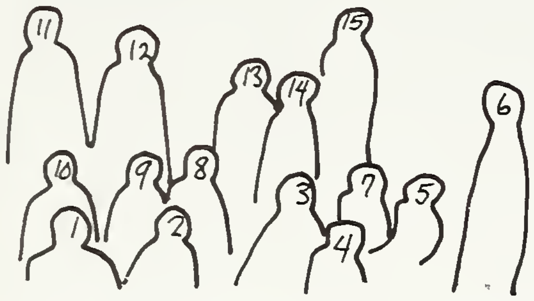
Circle K



Circle K is a Kiwanis sponsored international university service organization composed of students with a sincere interest in service to their fellowman. At the campus level, Circle K paints the "Hello Walks," operates the Circle K student book store, conducts a radio program, works on MSU's High School Week, builds parade floats and judges at university elections. On the national level, Circle K sponsors the Red Cross Blood Drives, participates in cancer and mental health campaigns, raises funds for the Heart Association by sponsoring the Heart Fund Dance, and participates in conventions from an international to a local level.

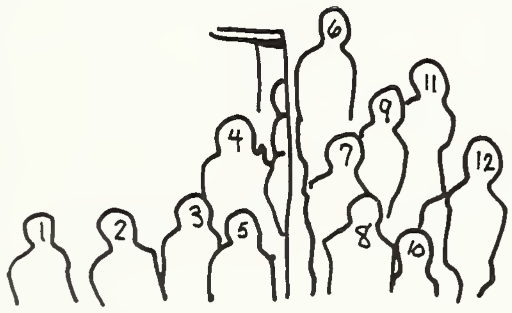
AWS



Associated Women Students, the only organization on campus which represents the total female faction, is the governing body for MSU women. Its purpose is to organize and unite the women, and to effect changes when changes are needed. AWS sponsors the Capers Carnival and sells the quarterly calendars in order to provide scholarships which are given on Women's Day.

MRA — Langford, Culbertson and Mullan

An organization which is the voice of the male dorm residents to the administration, MRA works to make dorm living more enjoyable and more beneficial. In addition to various activities, such as dances which are paid for by members' fees, the Men's Residence Association has this year passed a new constitution, gained sponsorship of all vending machines in the men's living halls, assisted with the ten-hour experimental meal service program in the dorms and purchased new sports equipment.

Currently MRA is laying the groundwork for an experimental visitation privilege among male and female residence halls.

Designed for, and made up of, students who want to take an active part in campus life, but who do not want to become affiliated with Greek organizations, the Independent Students' Association of MSU is an "active organization for active people." Its many and varied activities are designed to provide the non-Greek students on campus with extensive college experiences. For those students who may be interested in student government, ISA runs and supports candidates for every student government office on campus. Also active in campus politics, ISA initiated the petition which led to the two-to-one vote in favor of the optional athletic fee.

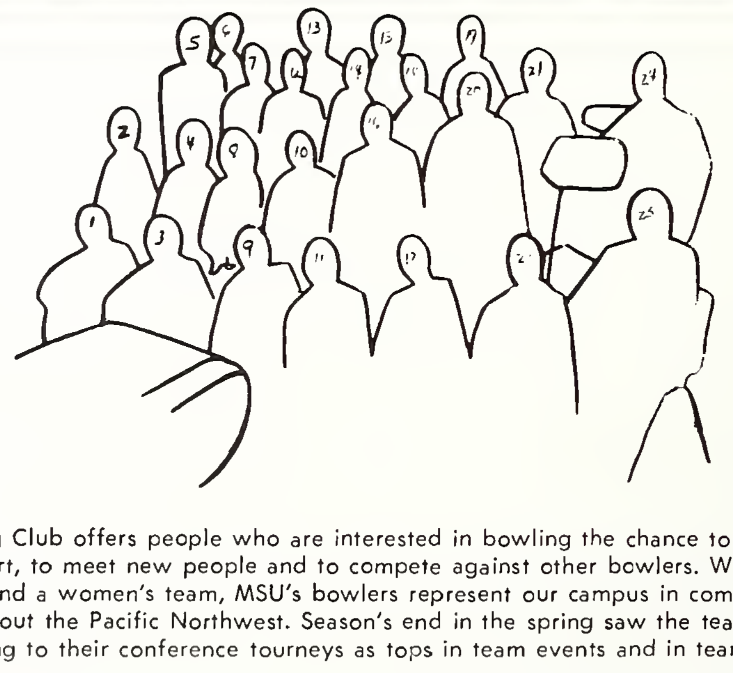
Bowling Club



Bowling Club offers people who are interested in bowling the chance to practice the sport, to meet new people and to compete against other bowlers. With both a men's and a women's team, MSU's bowlers represent our campus in competition throughout the Pacific Northwest. Season's end in the spring saw the teams travelling to their conference tourneys as tops in team events and in team doubles.

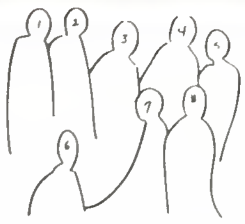
MUN



Model United Nations is a national organization which strives to promote an understanding of world problems among young people and to prepare them to work toward the solution of these problems. Students get a working knowledge of the functions of the United Nations through debates and caucuses concerning real-life questions.

This year MSU's MUN sponsored a high school MUN which brought state-wide delegates, and, as a representative of India, it attended the National MUN Convention in Eugene, Oregon.

Septemviri

Seven outstanding members of the Senior Class are chosen each year to be in Septemviri. Chosen on the basis of scholarship, leadership and service, these men are instrumental in upholding traditions such as the freshman beanie and the annual President's Assembly. They can be seen on campus in their green sports coats with the numeral VII on the pocket.

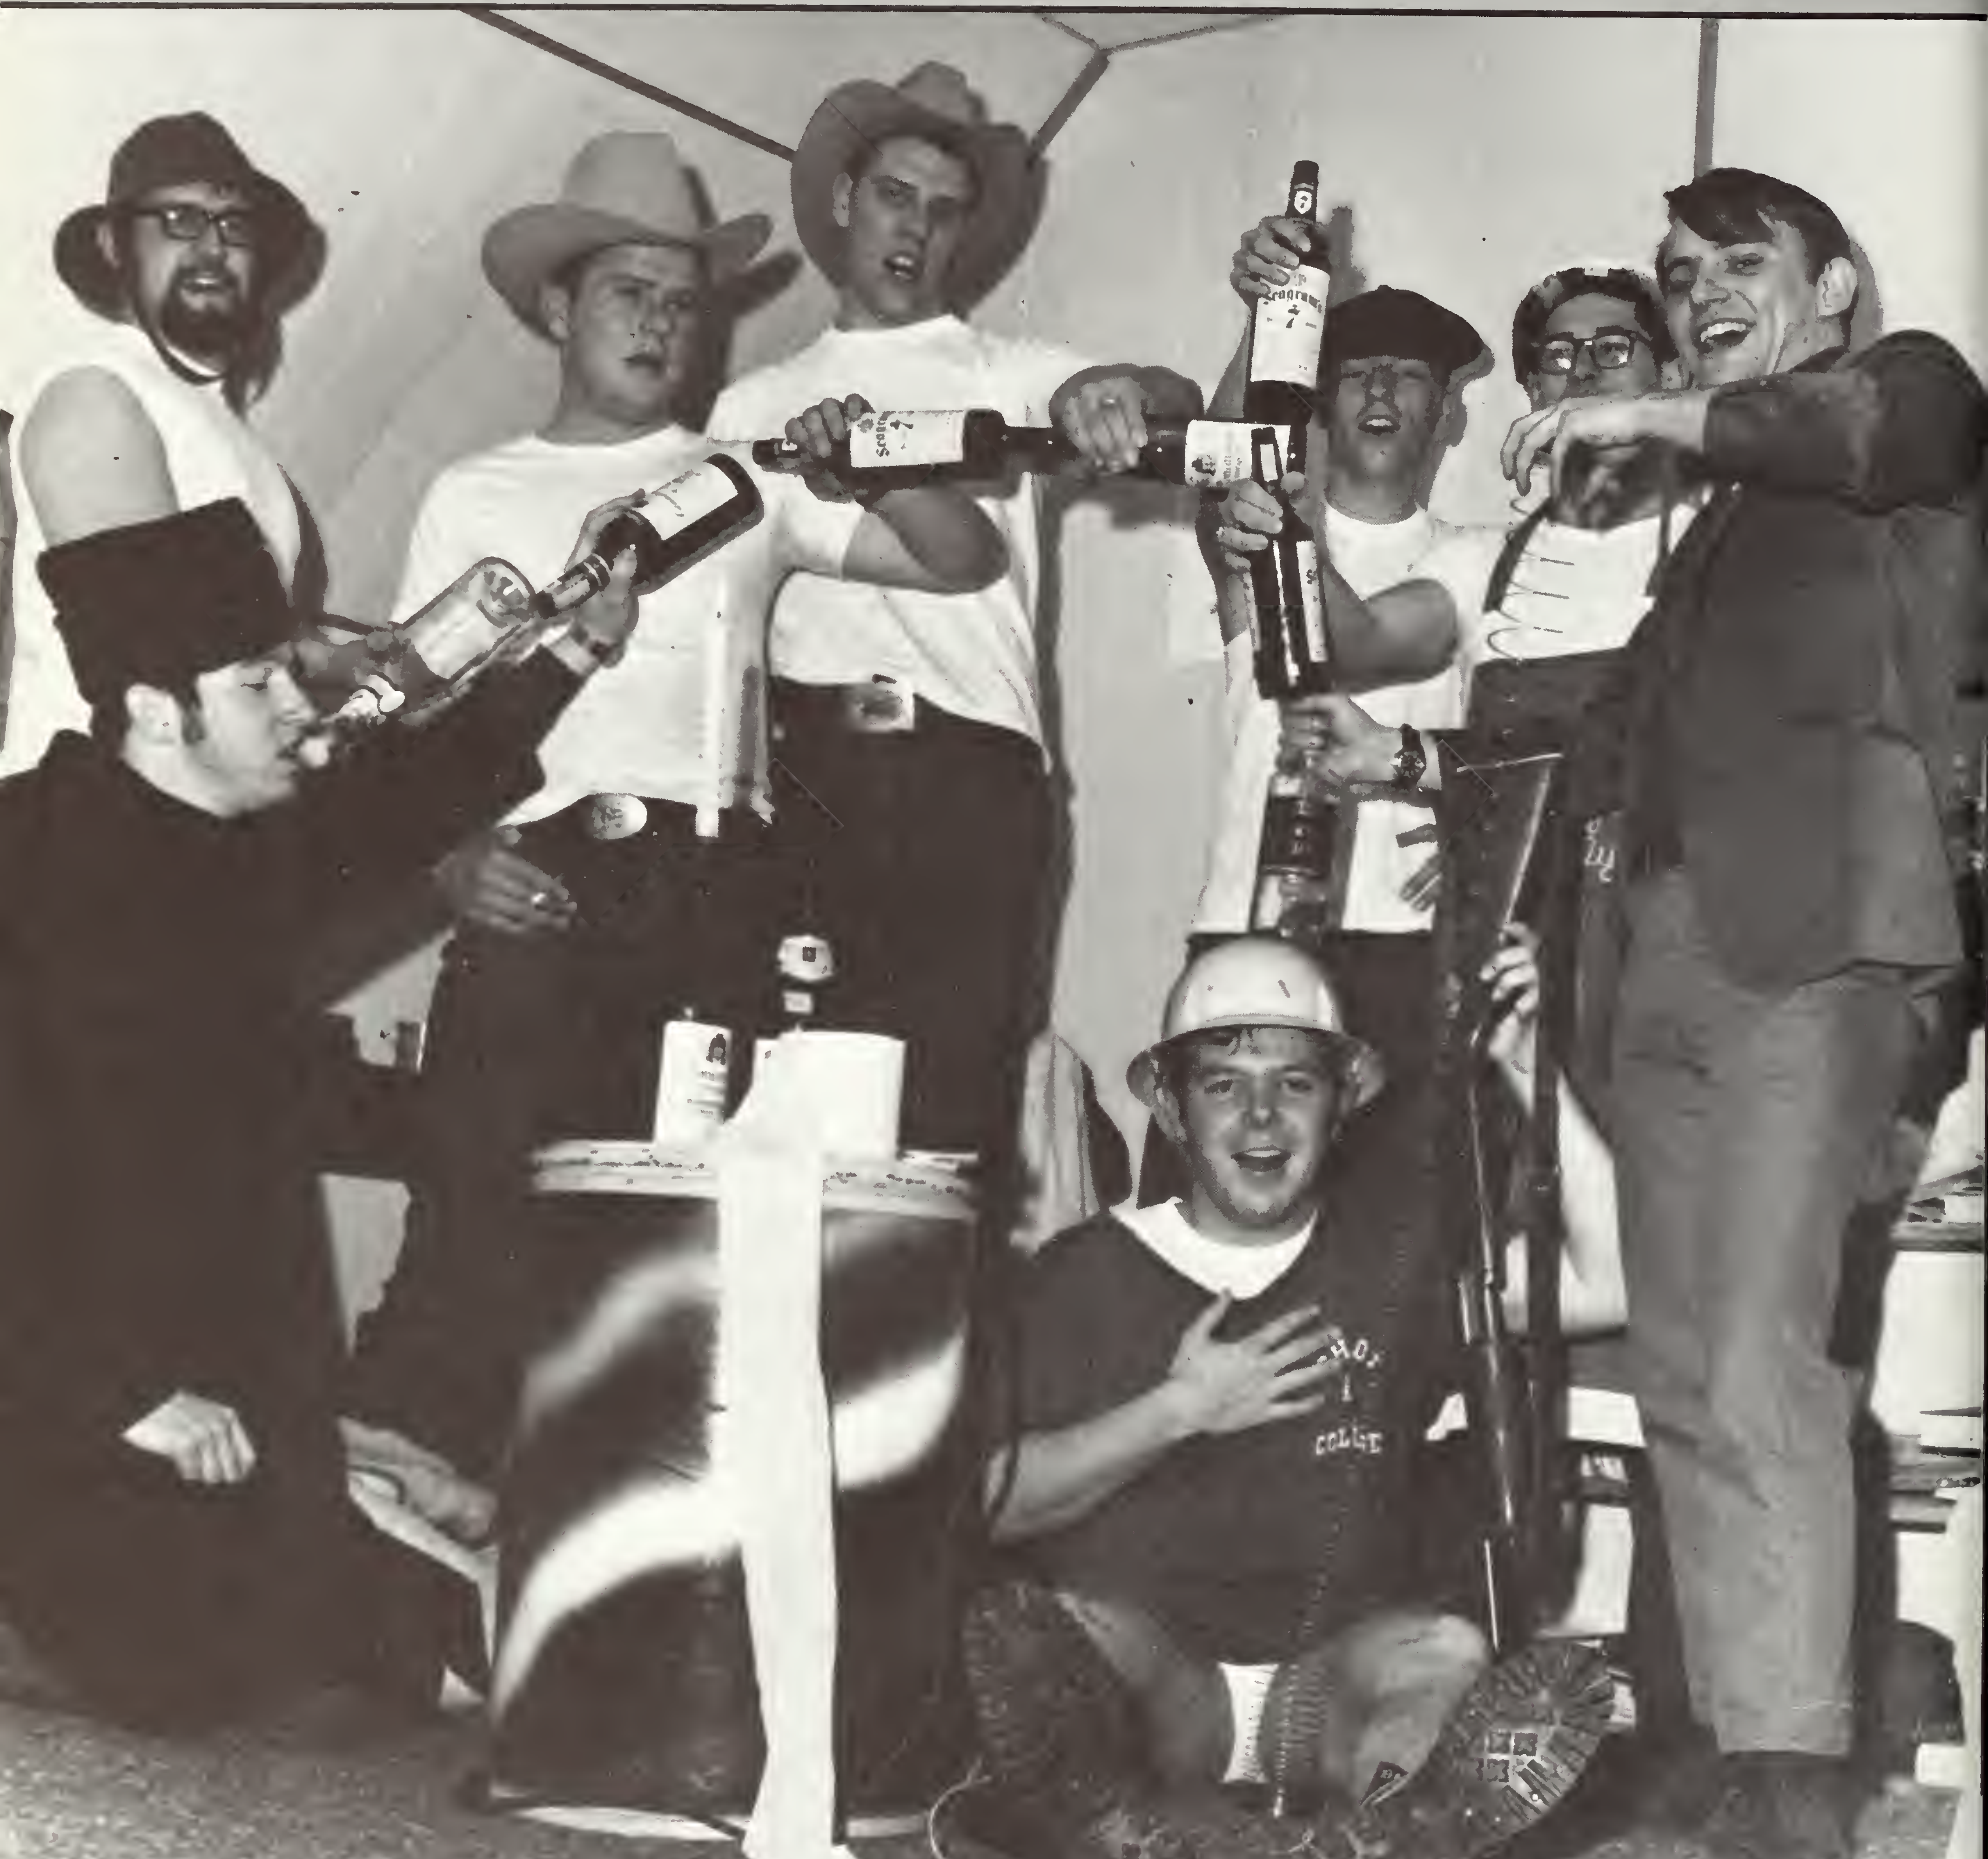
North Church Choir



North Church Choir is perhaps one of the finest musical groups in the Northwest. It was formed spontaneously at a revival meeting at 328 North Church this fall. Since then it has performed at such places as: 1. Eagles Lounge; 2. Haufbrau Supper Club; 3. Crystal Palace; 4. and also at the funeral of the local Stockman.

S . . . for service, P . . . for pep; U . . . for unity, R . . . for rep.;

These are the initials of the national sophomore women's service honorary, Spurs, which was founded on this campus in 1922. Spurs are selected on the basis of their scholarship, leadership, personality, and attitudes by the year's outgoing Spurs. Full of enthusiasm, the forty-five members usher for campus activities, sponsor the annual Christmas Toy Drive, help during Freshman Orientation Week, and work with the Fangs on other projects.

diverse personalities
confronting issues of our time;
or avoiding them?
Student fees;
no stand on an undeclared war.

Student Senate

The four most controversial issues that faced Student Senate this year were constitutional revision, the stadium vote, athletic budgeting and State Attorney General Robert Woodahl's ruling on student fees, according to ASMSU President Bob Brown, pictured above right. The 10-member Constitutional Revision Committee reached a deadlock on the legislature of Student Senate. The group could not come to an agreement on election of delegates—whether they would be elected at large or from college wards. Students voted again this year on whether to increase student fees—the increased fees to partly fund the construction of a new stadium. Students approved this proposal, a new PE Complex proposal and a proposal to make the athletic fee optional. Previously, students had approved turning over to Finance Board control of all student fees —including that $5 portion that automatically goes to varsity athletics. At the January meeting of the Board of Regents President Brown presented the two athletic fee proposals to the board members. Brown said that the Regents discussed the proposal, but refused to act on them. "What I really wanted them to do was remove the 'earmark' they earlier put on a portion of student fees for varsity athletics," continued Brown. "It was action on this 'earmarking' that was refused." Brown and MSU Acting President William Johnstone agreed after that meeting to place all student fees in the hands of the ASMSU Finance Board beginning with spring quarter. "If the earmarked $5, or a portion of that money, is not allotted to athletics, it will have to go into a Reserve Fund," Brown stated. "And that's the catch. The fund could not be used except for athletics for until the Board of Regents does what I requested." In February "Bingo Bob" Woodahl issued an opinion concerning student activity fees—an opinion which Brown said will have ramifications for all Senate activities, particularly, Project 19 (a Senate financed project campaigning for lowering of the voting age). Woodahl said: "Student activity fees are public monies and cannot be expended for private purposes." "Where," asked Brown, "do you draw the line between public and private purposes?" No answer had been received from Woodahl by the end of Winter Quarter. Pictured above left is ASMSU Vice President Bob Quinn.

Administrators, educators—make decisions, initiate programs.
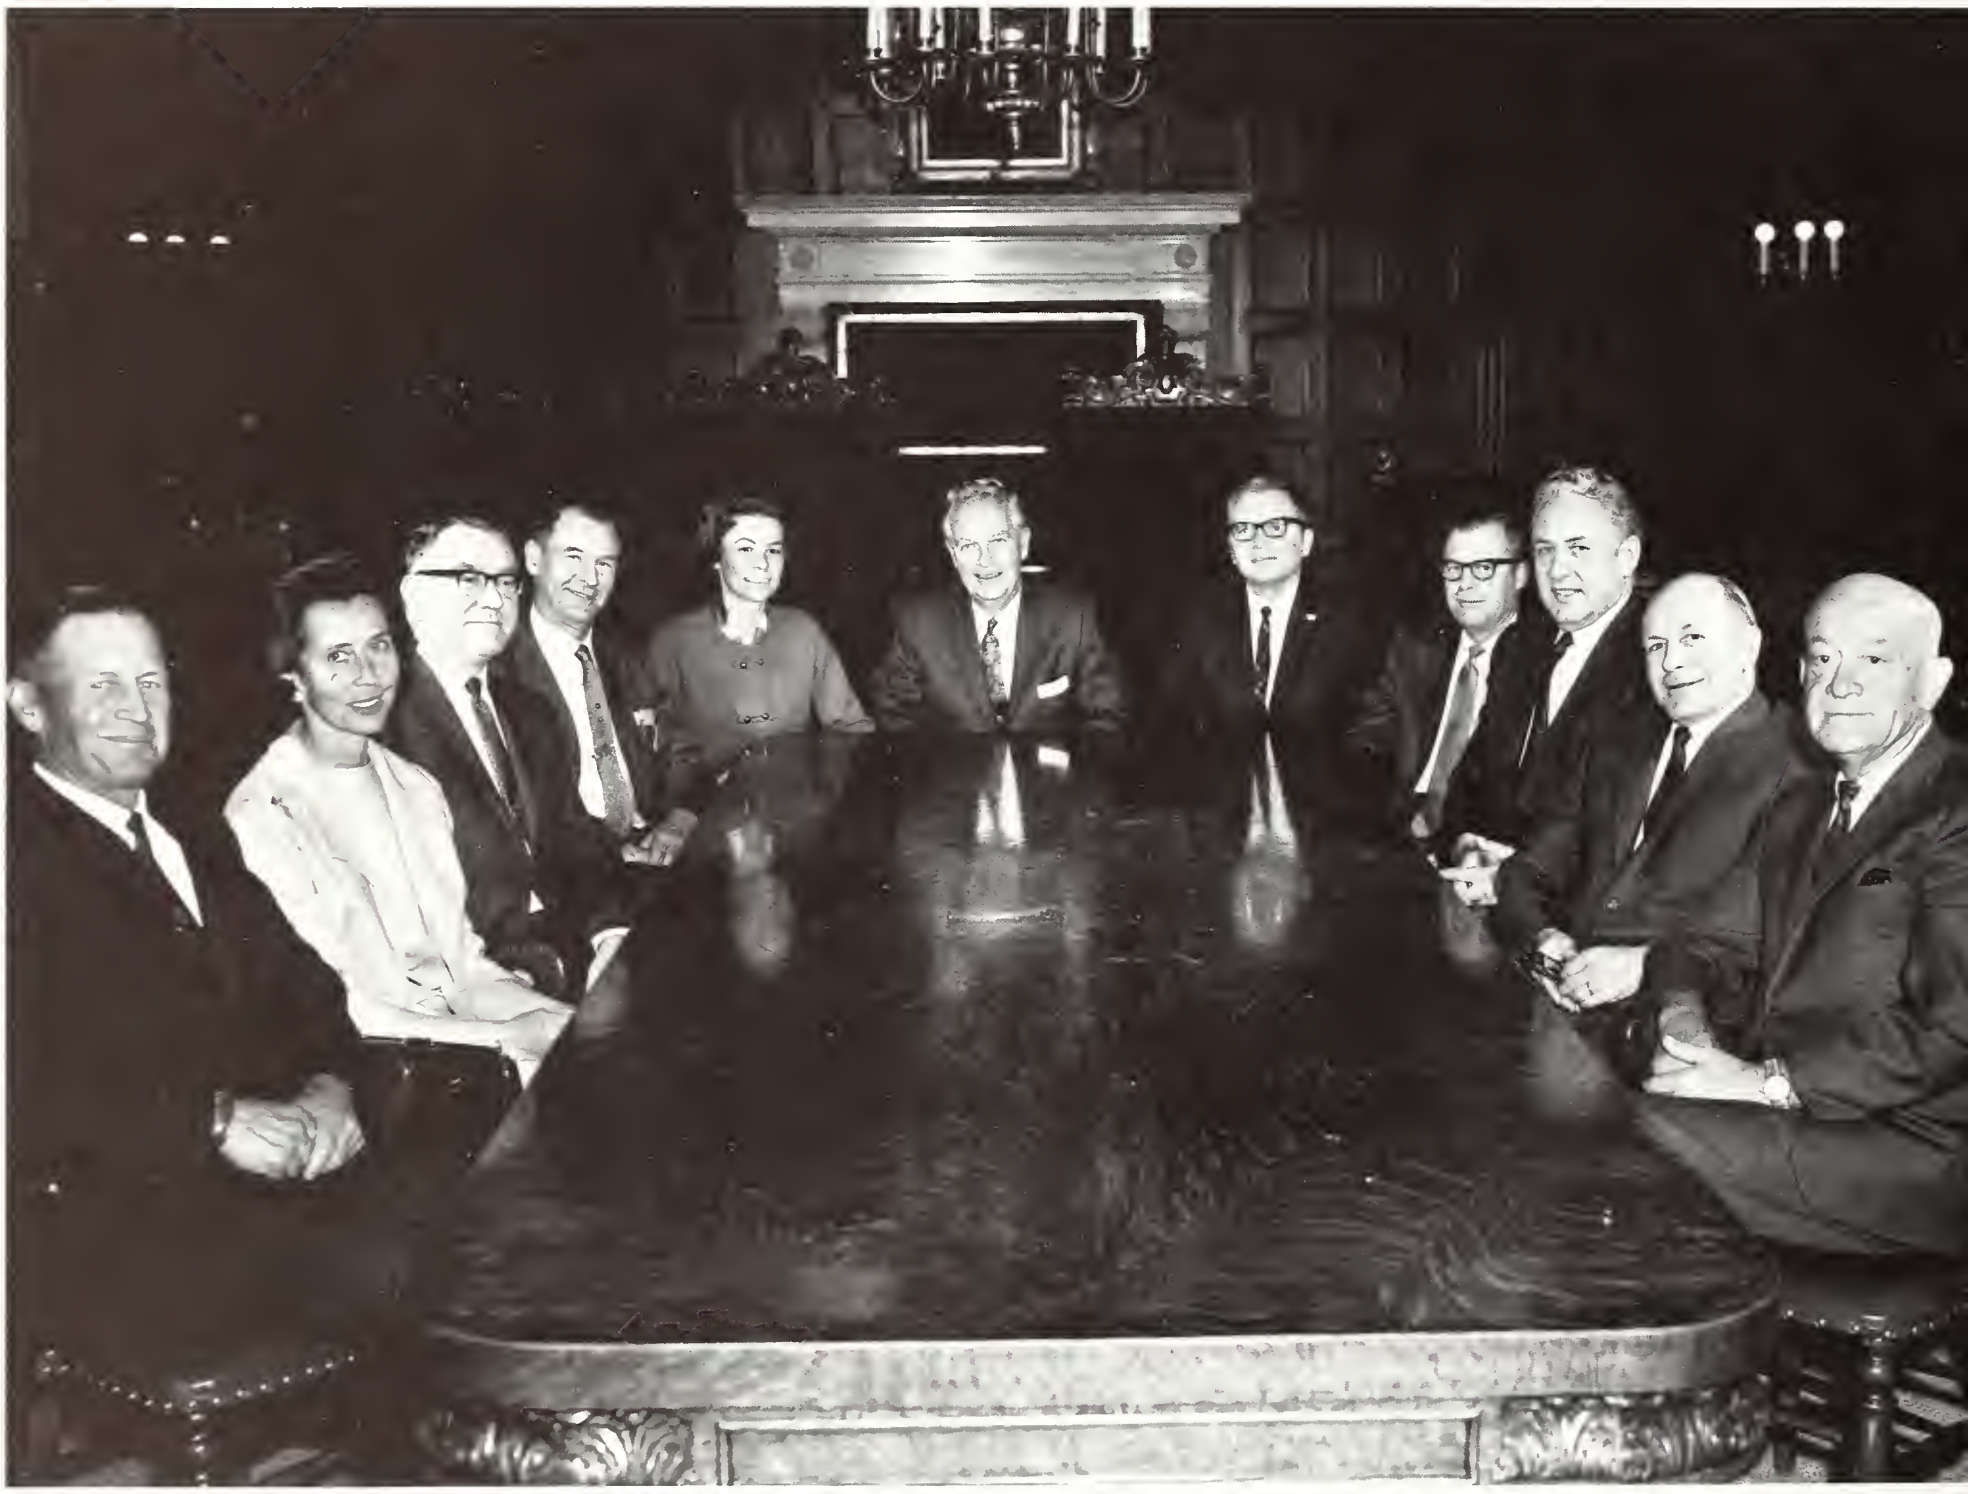
Administer with care necessary remedies;
your actions determine MSU—tomorrow.



The Board of Regents for the Montana University System had the task during the 1969-70 school term of selecting a new president for Montana State University—a selection which will directly affect the future growth and prominence of this university. The position of MSU President has been vacant since the death of Dr. Leon Johnson in June, 1969, and the Board had come to no decision at the end of fall quarter.

The Board makes the final decision on nearly all actions concerned with the Montana universities —from curriculum changes and new degree programs to student organizations' constitutions.

The Regents of the Montana University System are, from the left, M. E. Richard; Mrs. Marjorie King; John E. O'Neill; John D. French; Ex Officio Board Members Dolores Colburg, Superintendent of Public Instruction, Governor Forrest H. Anderson, Attorney General Robert L. Woodahl; A. A. Arras, Jr.; C. P. Moore, who has been replaced by T. T. Heberly; F. H. Mulke; and Baynton G. Paige.

William Johnstone, Vice President for Administration, was appointed Acting President of Montana State University by the Board of Regents following Leon Johnson's death in June.

Acting President

A 26-year career at Montana State University was ended June 18, 1969, with the death of Dr. Leon H. Johnson, president of Montana State University. Before being appointed president in 1964, Dr. Johnson had served as executive director of the school's Endowment and Research Foundation; graduate division dean; acting president, and professor of chemistry.

"Dr. Leon Johnson had great faith in his fellow man, enthusiasm for the challenges and tasks facing him and a broad vision of what this University could become in service to Montana and all its people."
William A. Johnstone, Acting President

"He had the ability, almost an unique ability among men I have known, to make those who worked with him feel completely at ease."
Bob Brown, President, ASMSU

"Dr. Johnson recognized that no institution of higher education could be a true university without a research program of high quality. He was aware of the close relationship of research to graduate and undergraduate instructional programs and to the extension function of the University. I will always remember Leon Johnson's vision and spirit of innovation with regard to the University's responsibility to contribute to the development of new knowledge."
Roy E. Huffman, Vice President for Research

To My Student Friends:

As this is written a war is being waged in Viet Nam and an uncertain nation ponders its problems of prosperity and poverty, accord and discord, human rights and license, order and chaos. Its people are searching for new goals to sustain them, a new faith to comfort them and new leaders to direct them.

Revolutions seem to be the order of the day. Not slow evolutions of ideas and traditions but rapid, drastic changes which create new moralities and flout traditions and conventions that once were so comfortable. There are revolutions of emergence, of bondaged peoples seeking a place in the sun. There are revolutions of science and technology which seem constantly to shrink our small planet into even smaller dimensions and to telescope a myriad of events in ever briefer cycles.

Then there are among us, as always, the purveyors of gloom and doom, the cynics immune to both hope and despair and, of course, those who, like Lot's wife, are always looking backward, seeking to petrify progress. Their combined voices are a cacophony obscuring the true symphony of our time.

But there is hope and it comes from our interest in a search for better answers. And our hope lies with you, for you are demanding new answers to old questions never answered satisfactorily before. You seek a relevance for your lives and your education, and your insistence on these things is not going unnoticed. You can, if you will, make this planet a bit more habitable for all. You can open windows to vistas never viewed before; you can give hope to millions who have never known it.

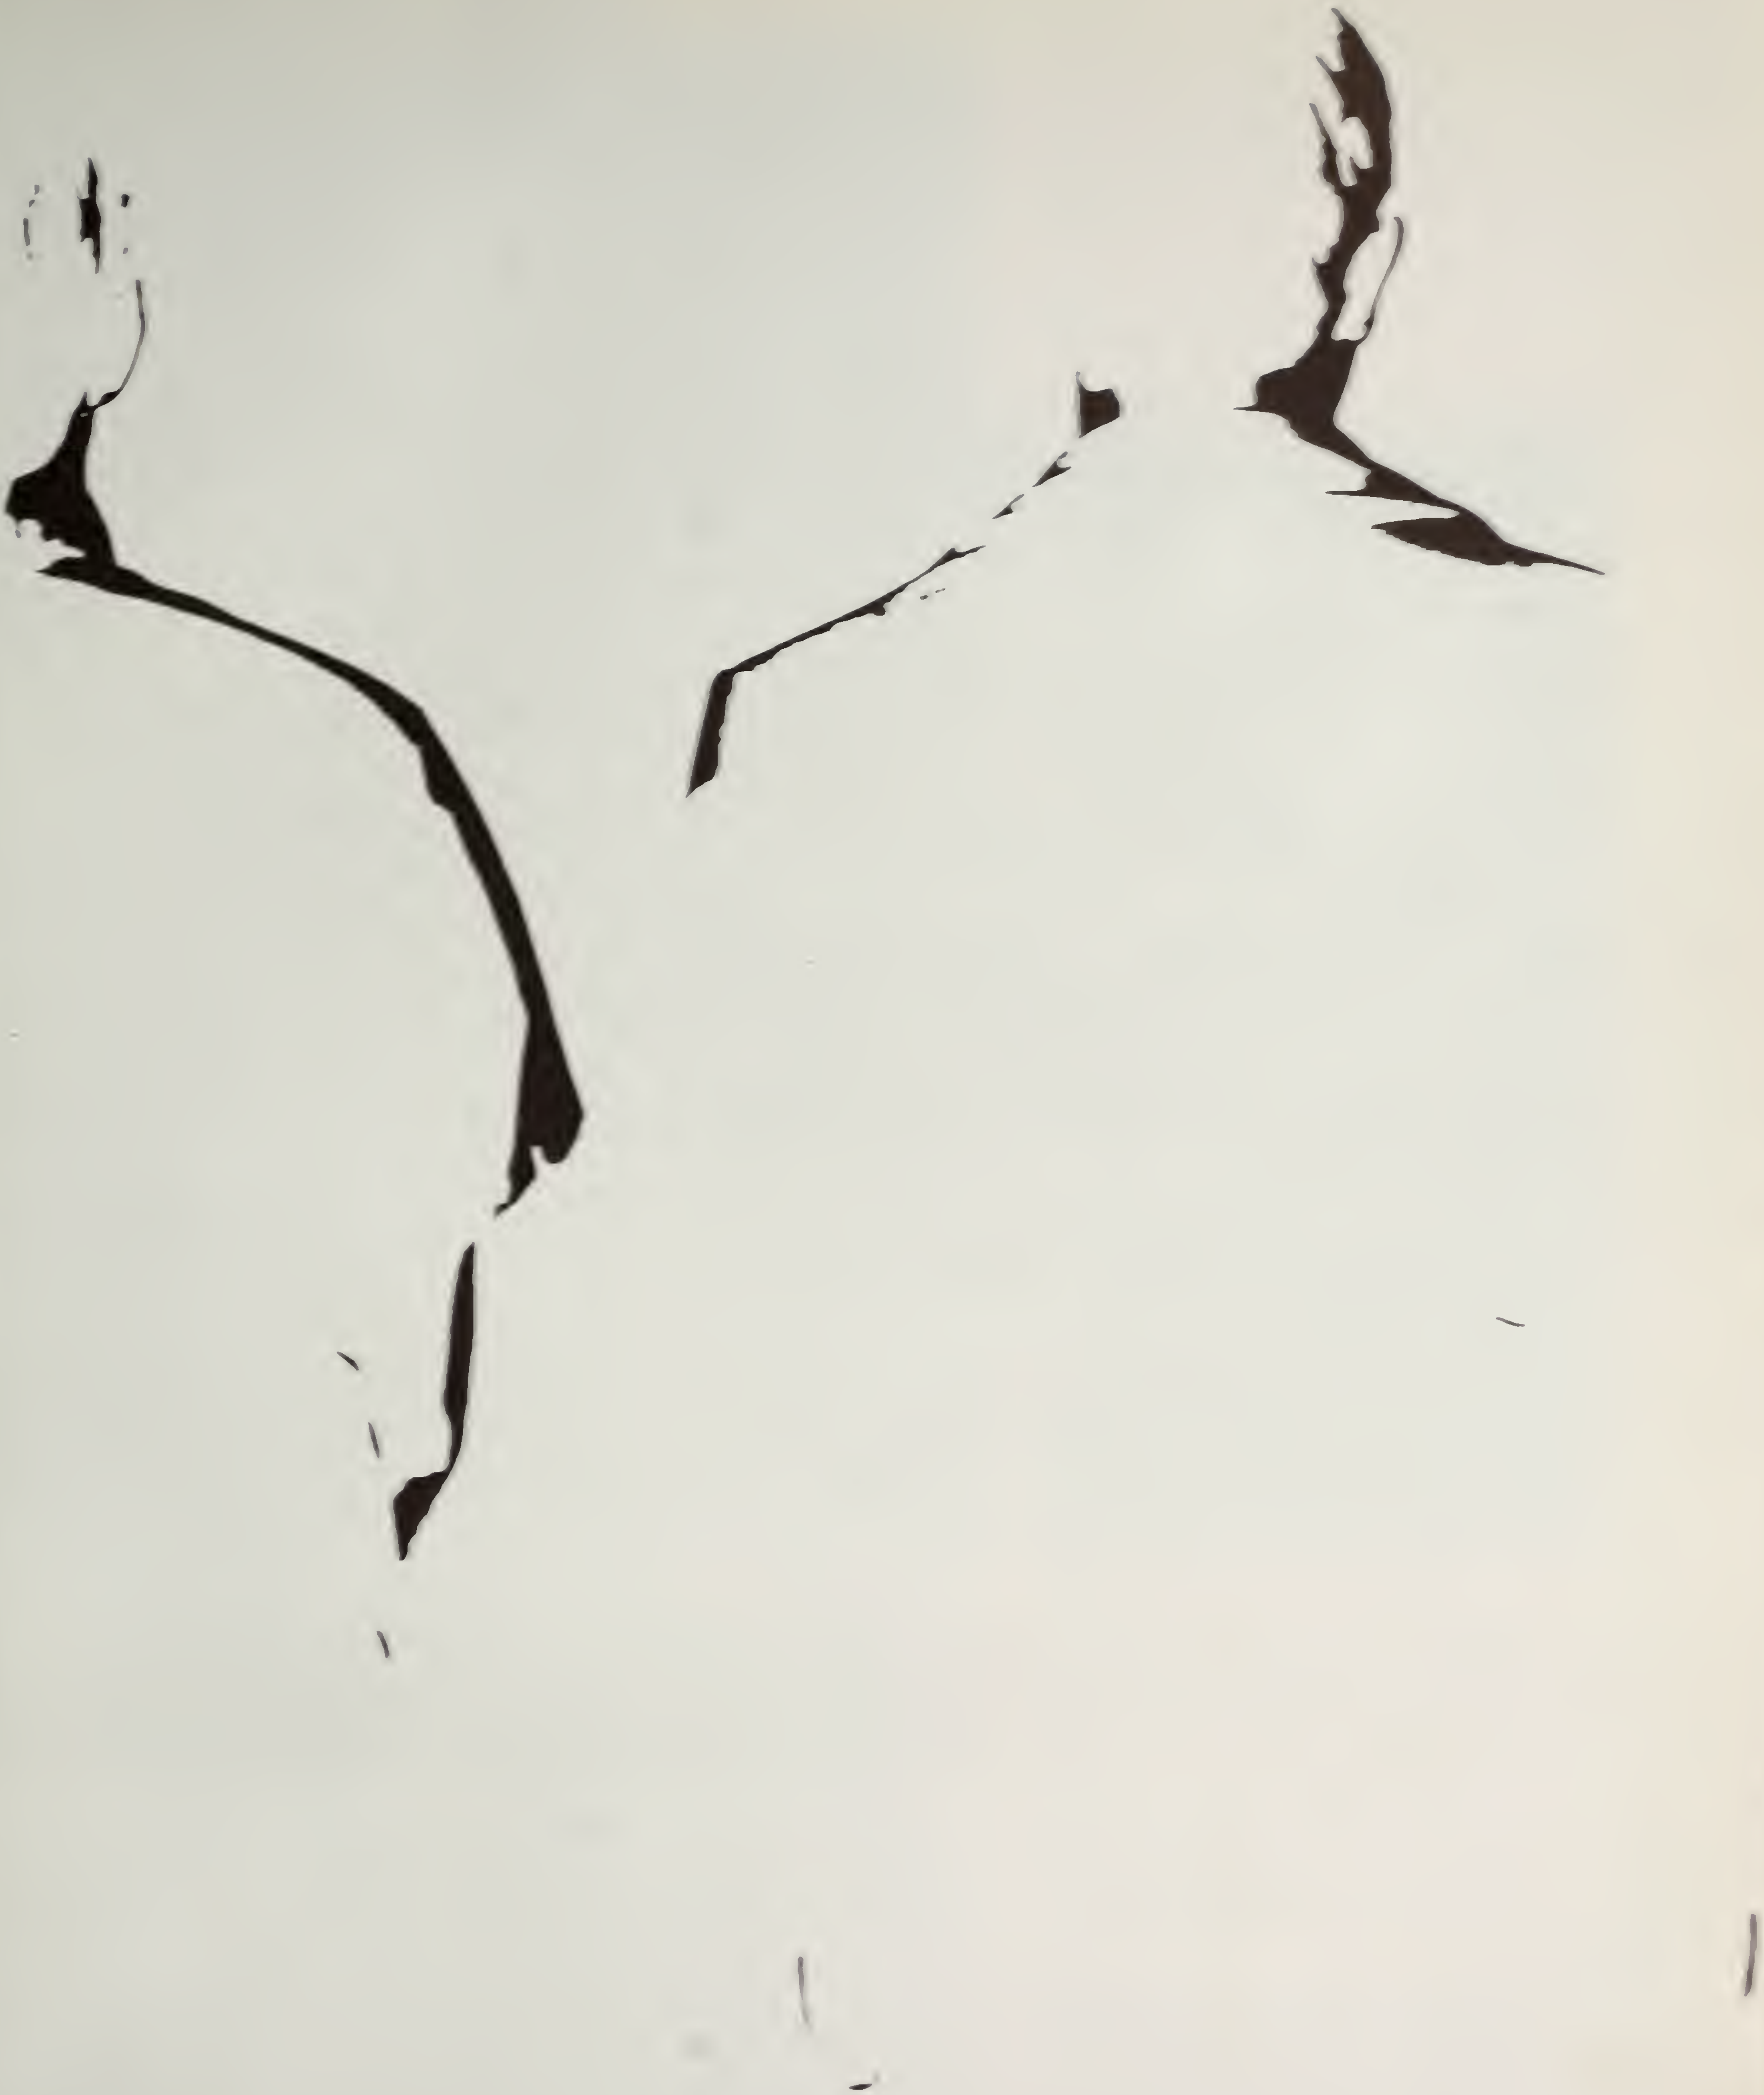
The world awaits you and time will test your zeal and measure your faith. Perhaps you will find that great victories are not won by idle wishes or eloquent phrases, but by dedication and sacrifice. Perhaps you will find, too, that only truth can set one free, that love and altruism are not just objects of the cynics' scorn. Perhaps you will discover that time passes not in disjointed spurts but in a continuous stream and that the past is linked through the present to the future, that your tomorrows will also be someone's yesterdays.

Leon H Johnson

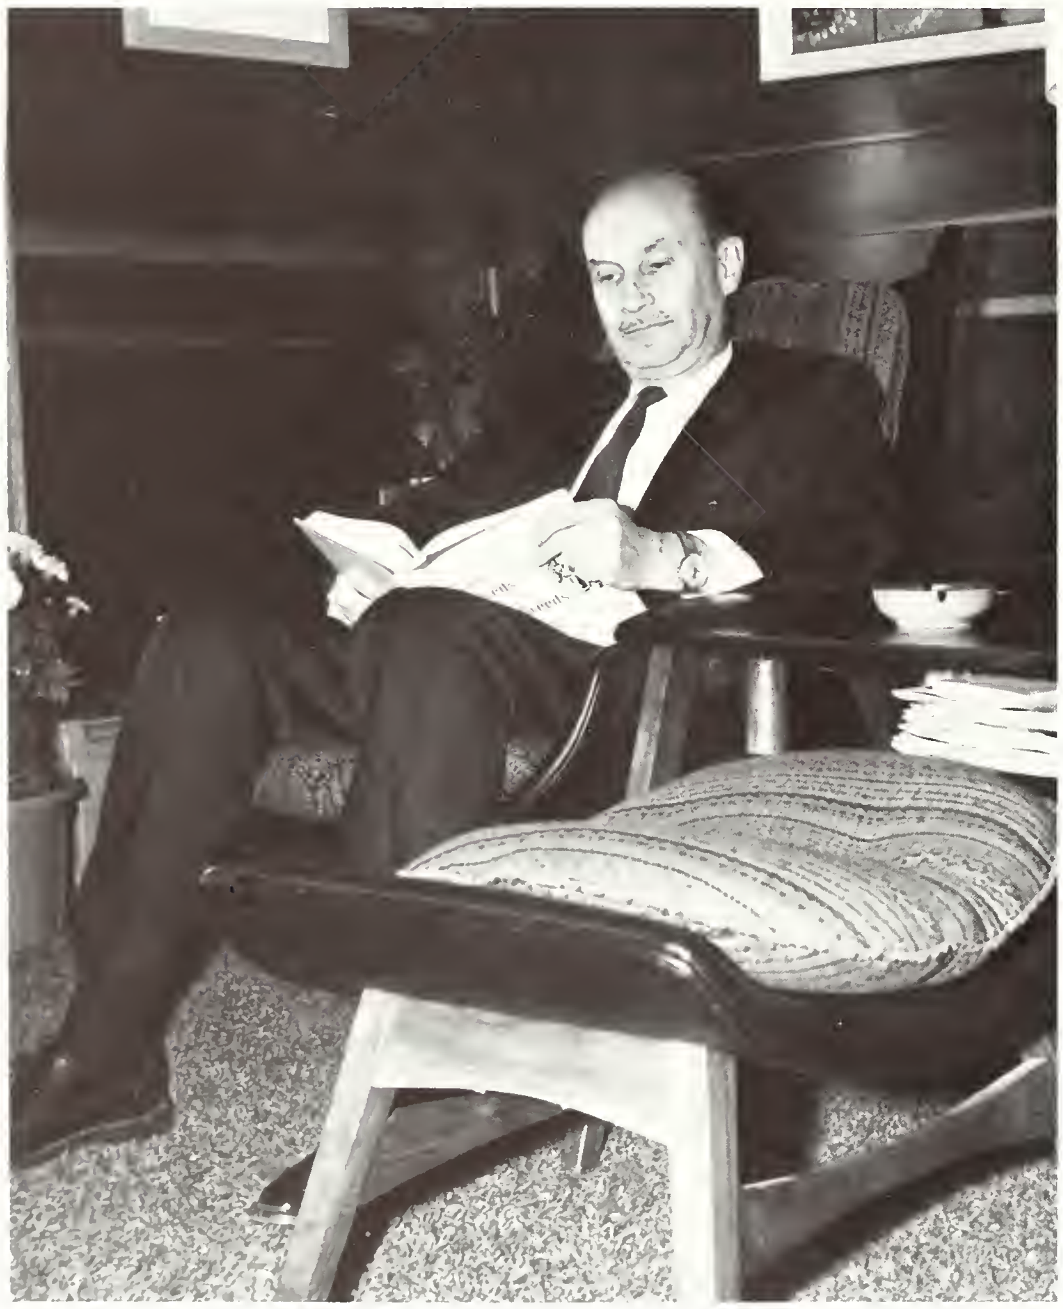
Leon H. Johnson
President

The letter above—found behind the Montanan's file cabinets—portrays a president's feelings and reactions toward his students.

New President?



Vice-Presidents



The functions of the Vice President for Research is to assess the total research effort and to serve as an expediter for it, at all times maintaining a close liaison with appropriate agencies of the government—both at the state and federal levels.

For the present Vice President for Research, Dr. Roy Huffman, (far left, left page), these functions also include keeping research in its proper place so as it will not interfere with an instructor's teaching role. Huffman foresees an "increase in the people-oriented" research at MSU. This type of research includes the social studies.

The responsibilities of the Vice President for Academic Affairs, Dr. Irving Dayton, (near left, left page), include the formation and enactment of the broad policies which govern curricular matters, instructional methods, student advising and counseling, faculty tenure and promotions for other purely academic matters.

Vice President Dayton said that the "'good activities' which we strive for include raising the quality level of and strengthening of the academic programs, never forgetting the non-professional students—those not seeking a degree within a particular department."

The Vice President for Administration is the University's chief budgetary officer and is charged with the administration of the physical facilities of the University.

As the head of the University Building Committee, Vice President William Johnstone, (this page), develops "long range priorities." Since the death of Leon H. Johnson in June, Vice President Johnstone has been Acting President of the institution.

Deans

The Office of Student Affairs and Services has jurisdiction in all those student activities of a non-curricular nature. But, Max Worthington, dean of the office, commented that "This doesn't mean that we are not concerned with student curriculums and grades. We deal with all student problems—and by necessity, these two areas must be included. We try to steer the student to the proper personnel and to acquaint the student with university procedures."

Two new areas which were added to the responsibilities of this office this year were incomplete grades and early leaves from campus. There is also the possibility that time blocks will fall in this office's jurisdiction, according to Worthington, pictures on the left page.

The other major personnel in the Office of Student Affairs and Services are Mrs. Marjorie Paisley, Dean of Women, pictured above, right, and Edward Hanson, Dean of Men, pictured above, left.

A new department in the College of Engineering began offering courses this fall. Although the Department of Computer Science under Dr. L. A. Schmittroth offered courses this year, no degree programs have been established.

New department heads this year in the Engineering College were Dr. Eugene Bishop, Aerospace and Mechanical Engineering, and Dr. Glen Martin, Civil Engineering.

A new Assistant Dean of Education joined the ranks of the MSU administrative personnel this fall. Dr. Arvin Blome, in his position as assistant dean, acts somewhat as an ombudsman between the students and the administration. For the past two years, Dr. Blome was Associate Dean of Education and Director of Educational Research at Western Kentucky University.

Curriculum expansion and intensive educational research continued this year under the leadership of Dean Ringo.

Outstanding Professor

Hester Duggleby, MSU professor in the Department of Home Economics, was selected last spring as the recipient of the Student Senate Outstanding Professor Award.

Each academic year—after formal nominations and nominations from the floor are evaluated—the members of Student Senate vote for the professor they consider the most outstanding.

When Mrs. Duggleby received the award, she made a personal appearance at one of the Senate meetings to thank the members and to comment that the award is a "valuable weapon" when the administration applies "pressure." And in her case they did. The award proved only as a recommendation for positions at institutions other than MSU.

"Special" treatment afforded Mrs. Duggleby by the Home Ec Department after the presentation included non-renewal of her contract for the 1969-70 school term.

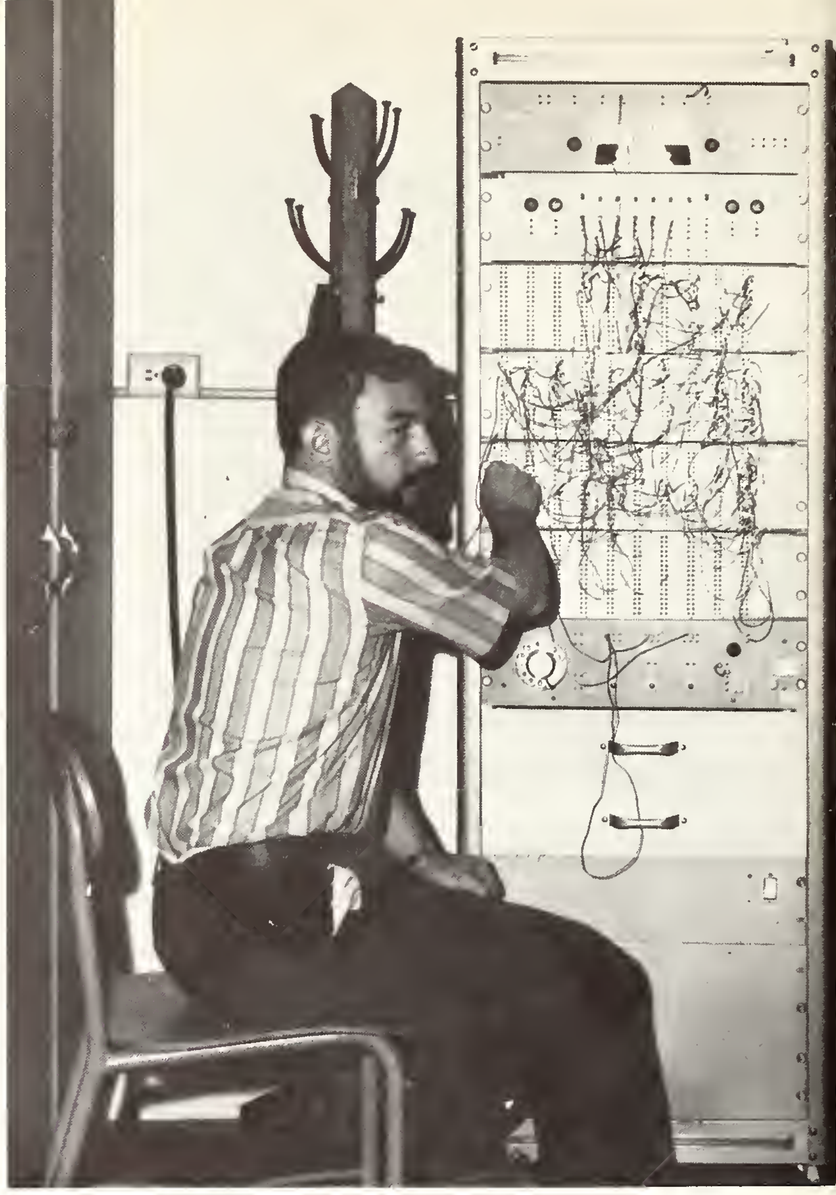
Commenting on non-renewal of her contract, Mrs. Duggleby said, "To give me another contract would have been to give me tenure." According to an October 29, 1969 article in the Exponent, "She was told by her department head that she would have to go somewhere to start a Ph.D. program in Consumer Education. 'I don't think a degree in consumer education ought to be offered and wouldn't be caught dead with a doctorate in it,' Mrs. Duggleby said."

Mrs. Duggleby is now in Edmonton, Alberta, studying in a Ph.D. program in Educational Psychology at the University of Alberta.

Ugly Professor

"I think students should voice their likes and dislikes about a course and let the teacher know if something is going wrong, particularly with the way the subject matter is being taught," Dr. Bradford Mundy stated. "Most teachers are receptive to student suggestions—but few students will speak up," he continued.

Dr. Mundy was selected "Ugly Professor" during the World University Service sponsored contest.

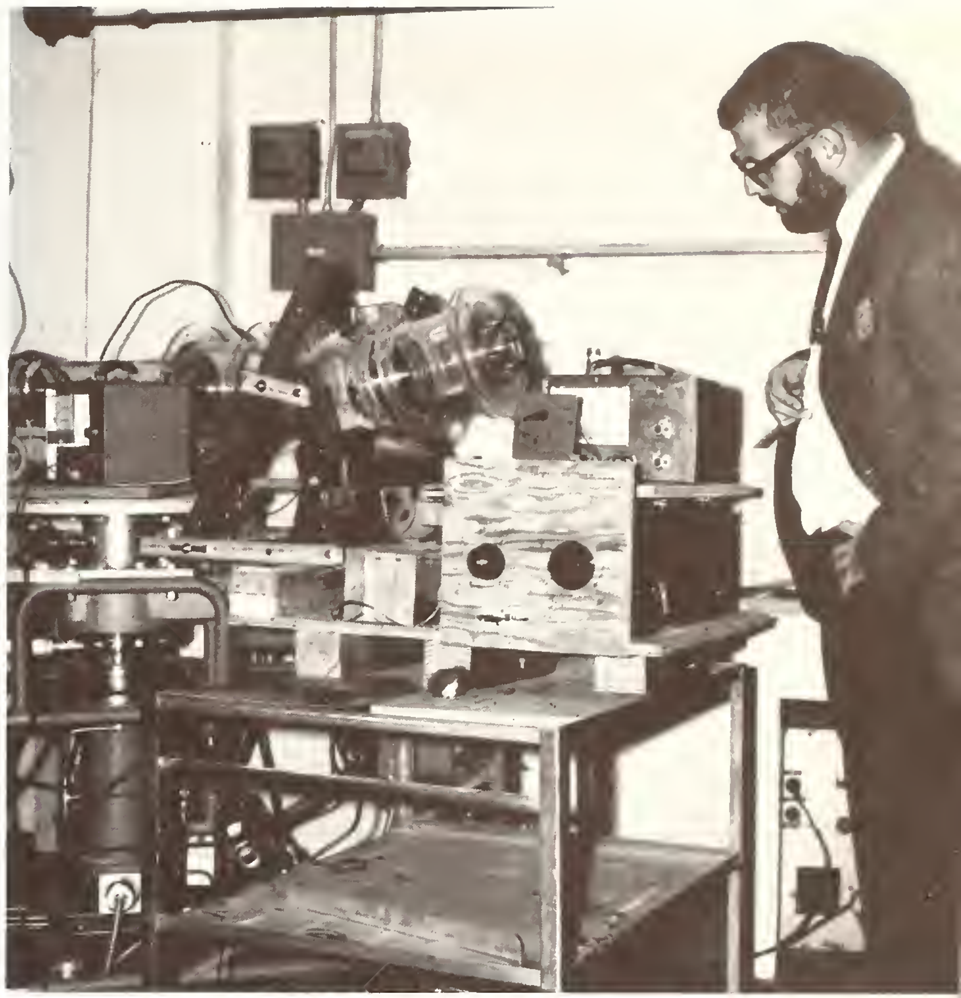


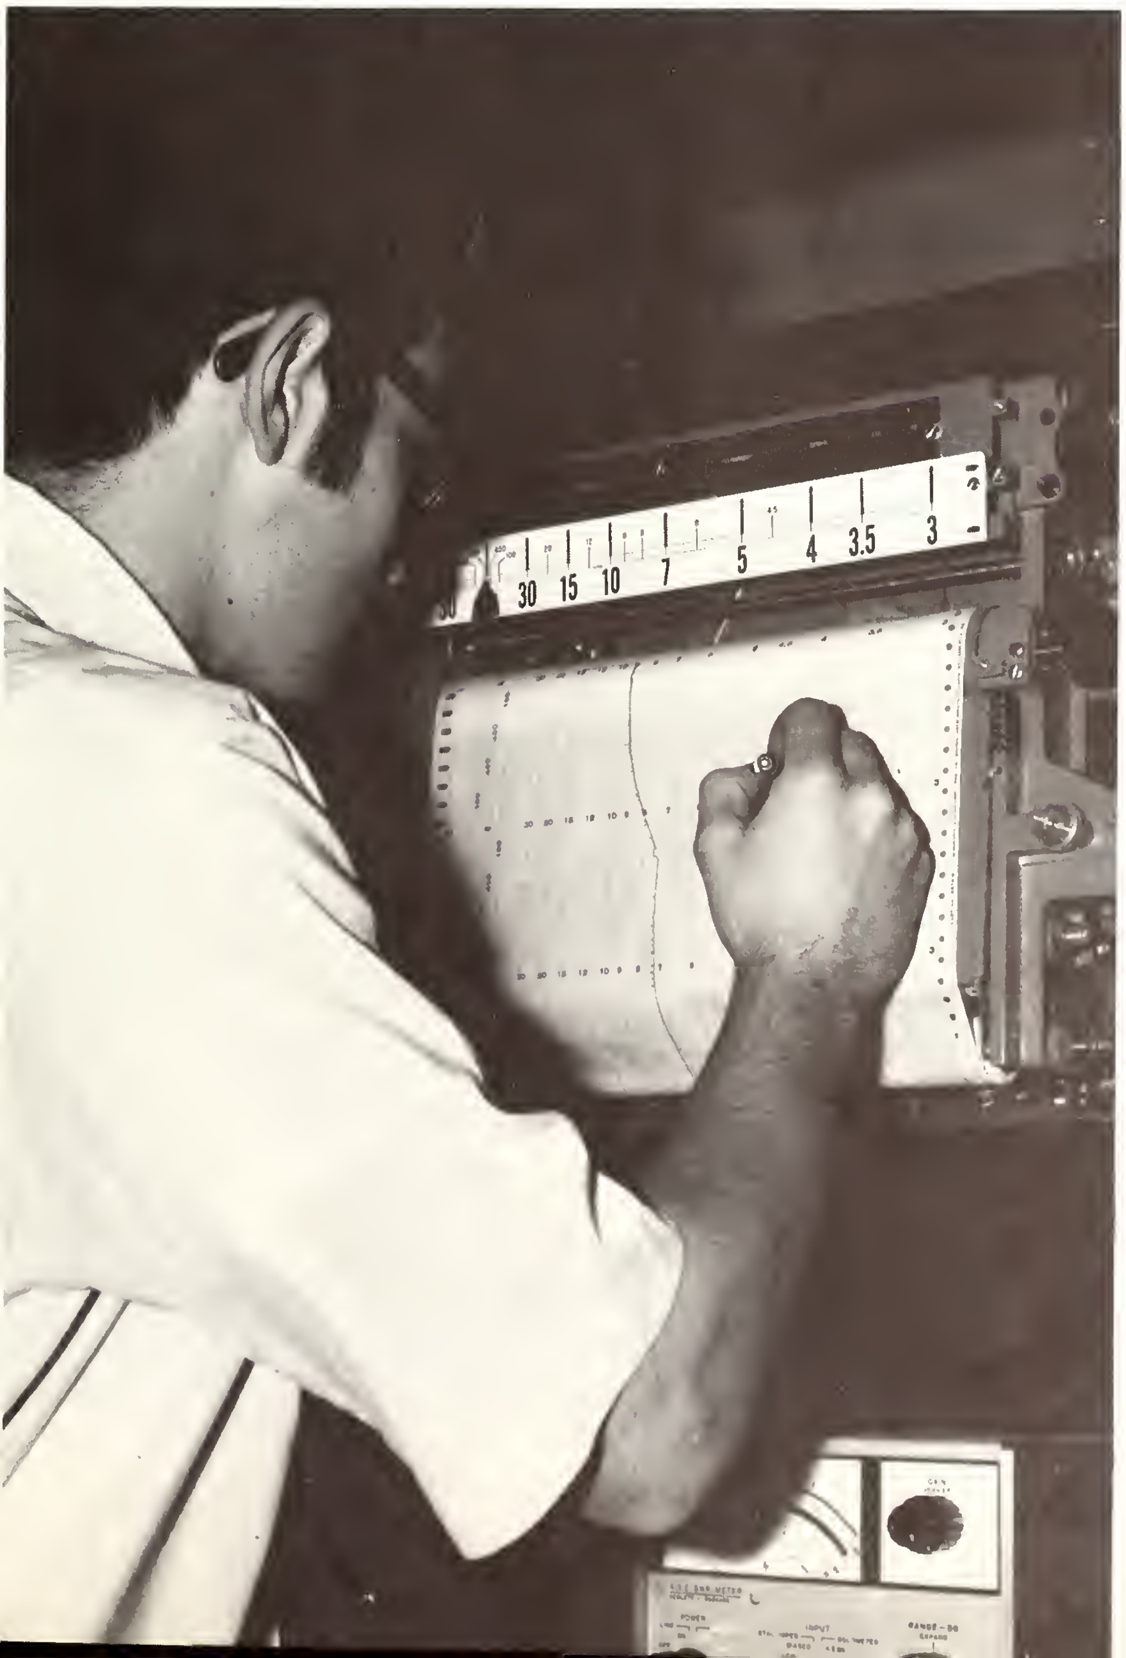
Research

Although about one-half of the money invested in research at MSU is involved in agriculture, there are several other areas in which important research is being carried out.

About four years ago the Research Park Building was proposed to aid with the development of research activities. Presently, there are four projects housed in the Research Park Building. They include two MSU sponsored activities—an electronic research laboratory (the overflow from Ryon Laboratory) and a civil defense planning activity handled by the Department of Architecture.

Two private businesses are also headquartered in this research building. One of these—Western Telecomputing—is a remote computing service for private engineering firms.





As soon as these two businesses are self-sufficient they will move out of the university building to allow more "infant" industries to acquire the same benefits.

In the area of environmental studies, research has been going on for the past two years in weather modification via cloud seeding in the Bridger Mountains north of Bozeman. A corollary project is seeking an answer to the question whether precipitation will decrease in one area when you increase it in another.

The Environmental Studies program gave rise to a parallel project dealing with the ecological effects of weather modification. Limited somewhat by time, these researchers are dealing with grasshoppers and rodents to determine the effects of increased precipitation on animal and plant life.

Graduate Studies

An increasing need for preparation and education in addition to that received at the undergraduate level has made it necessary in some fields—and desirable in others—to receive some sort of graduate training. At Montana State University the College of Graduate Studies makes this further education possible. Since 1902 when the the first graduate degree was awarded at MSU, more than 1,900 graduate degrees have been presented. Dean of this college is Dr. Kenneth Goering, pictured below right.

Honors Program

The Honors Lectureship Series, 1969-70, featured scholar William Arrowsmith of the University of Texas at Austin, as its first lecturer on October 6. Arrowsmith, who claims the aim of education should be "the molding of men rather than the production of knowledge," is pictured above during his lecture entitled "The Red Desert: A Story of Psyche." Henry Steele Commager, American historian, in his lecture "The Crisis of the University," presented on November 6, stated that principles guiding universities in regard to research should include: (1) no secrecy in research; (2) complete control of research lying with the university; and (3) complete freedom to accept and reject governmental proposals.

The Honors Program provides outstanding Montana State University students the opportunity to work in small groups and individually on subjects that interest them. Guidance is provided by Director Harry Hausser and his staff.

Intercultural Programs

The Senior Intern Program of the Peace Corps involving five credit hours of preparation leading to service in Ecuador or Peru was begun this fall at MSU under the auspices of the Center for Intercultural Programs. Other intercultural programs during fall quarter included the Budaya Troupe—Indonesian performers pictured at right—presenting a Hindu epic through the use of various forms of Balinese, Javanese, and Sudanese performing arts; and the two-night second annual International Bazaar featuring American and foreign entertainment and food booths, and the sale of 2,000 different imported items. The Center is directed by Dr. Robbert Dunbar, above.

Extension Service

The Cooperative Extension Service, under the directorship of Torlief Aasheim, has as its function the "combining the efforts of professional and lay people for the purpose of improving the level of living of Montana citizens." The service involves a partnership between the government, Montana State University and the people of the state of Montana for "improvement of agriculture and family living.

"The errors," new Computing Center director Lou Lucke sighed wearily, "were fantastic." Lucke was referring to the monumental problems of fall quarter registration. Mechanical difficulties with the Sigma 7 computer, faulty data fed into it and apparent errors in programming contributed to the trauma.

A total of 31 full-time employees worked this year in the computing center. These included systems analysists who design and program the system, operating system personnel who run the programs; machine operators who do the actual running of the computer; and clerical staff.

Equipment additions and subtractions included the new one—Univac 9300—which replaced an outdated one. It is the Sigma 7 computer which carries the major workload, however. Lucke continued, "At present the computers are only being utilized to fifty per cent of their capability. This is a mixed blessing—bad because when they are not being utilized to their full potential they are not paying for themselves—and good because when they are not being crowded the personnel is not pushed and there is less chance for error. The computer does NOT make errors. People do. The computers put out only what people put into them."

and through each other, to all.

"Oh, you're an Alpha Gam?"

"Yes, it's the Greek house at the end of the boulevard—the brick house with the white balconies."

"Do I know any of your sisters?"

"Well, you might have met one of the ten Spurs during Orientation Week. Are you active in AWS or Student Senate? Alpha Gams are officers in both of these organizations. Fraternity auxiliaries, such as Pikettes, Girls of the Golden Heart, and Crescents keep a lot of the sisters busy—as do WAA and other college activities. Scholarship is also a major part of college life as can be seen by the sisters in Mortar Board, Who's Who, and other scholastic honoraries."

"Sounds like the Alpha Gams have invaded every facet of campus life."

"Yes, as a house, we try to promote involvement and interest in campus affairs, as well as in community projects. This year we had a rummage sale and gave up desserts for a month. The proceeds from these projects were contributed to cleft palate research. We also collected canned goods and helped with the March of Dimes."

"Gee, I guess I know lots of Alpha Gams!"

"Yes, but the house is more than campus honors and altruism; it is sisterhood, acceptance and sharing."

Alpha Omicron Pi is many things to many girls. It means an exciting rush and great new pledges, from homes as close as Bozeman and as far as Sweden—new pledges who ran the races in Derby Days together and won! AOPi means ringing doorbells for the Retarded Children's Drive, planning sneaks, serenades, slumber parties and sledding parties—and even reliving the "Days of Redeye" at the Fall Party. AOPi is student senate members, Spurs, Angels, Montanans, swimmers and skiers. But most of all, AOPi is smiles and friends.

i've lived, laughed, loved, met joy, challenges in this world: everyone's world. now a new world, a part of this larger world has come: Chi Omega a new world yet one just as complete in every aspect as that of the larger world. a world of reason to help me; help me face life and see things the way they are. a world of love everyone sharing, caring even the littlest bit for each other. a world full of smaller worlds—sisters each hand holding a different tool: an artist's brush, a microscope, a sheet of music, all hands joined in a single bond of Chi O. to be worthy of friendship: to answer another's needs to give of myself—true giving to work—for others and not just myself . . . so I discover a new world.

Delta Gamma is an opportunity for friendship with a variety of girls with diverse backgrounds and ideas—all with a common goal. Friendship, individuality, responsibility and sharing and caring are all part of the girls who wear the "anchor." Delta Gamma gives you a chance to give your lusty lungs to singing, your athletic ability to football, your fingers for pillowmaking, your talents for building floats and signs, your mind for scholastic attainment, your emotions at a candle passing, your tears when the pledges come and the seniors leave, and a pat on the back when a job is well done. Delta Gamma is giving and receiving. As you grow, so does Delta Gamma. So you see, Delta Gamma isn't just a name—it's sisterhood!

Unified by strong bonds of friendship, the Kappa Deltas began the year with a very successful rush program. Fall saw them serenading with the Great Pumpkin and donning "them old striped coveralls" for the pledge Barn Dance. Busy Kappa Delta girls could be found everywhere—"spurring" on the Fangs, at Mortar Board breakfasts, conducting Phi U meetings, enjoying fraternity life as Pikettes and listening to early morning SAE "song practices." Kappa Delta reflects girls in velvet at the annual winter party on Valentine's Day, girls helping crippled children, and girls sponsoring a Campfire troop. Kappa Delta is a shimmering white rose, a diamond pin, and the love of "Sisters." This is Kappa Delta.

Pigtails gold and bouncing,
Freckles on her nose,
Spreading warmth and brightness everywhere she goes.
A wrinkled, faded sweatshirt, a patched-up pair of jeans,
A bag of bones and braces—a girl in her teens;
Filled with bubbling energy,
A sparkle in her eye,
She has the special qualities of every young Pi Phi.

We're pretty proper Pi Phi's
So polished and polite,
With pride in our performance
And purpose in our sight.
Our pearly teeth are laughing,
Our playful hearts delight . . .
In planning perfect parties and Doing things just right.

Serenades and functions suit us all just fine.
Studies and fraternities occupy our time.
Cowboy boots and curlers, excitement everyday.
Big sisters to look after us . . .
In that very special way.
Dancing, laughing, living,
A sparkle in her eye,
Enjoying every moment as an active new Pi Phi.

Alpha Gamma Rho is made up of men, each of whom, has unique characteristics, attitudes and aspirations. Take these individual tendencies, blend them together and they become solidified by strong friendships which we call brotherhood. These friendships develop by bull sessions anytime of the day or night and through participation in many activities. Scholastically, AGR has consistently been in the top three of the eleven fraternities. Politically, the AGR's have done very well with members holding such offices as student body Vice President, Commissioner of Bookstore, Commissioner of Athletics, Senior Class Social Chairman, Sophomore Class President, Freshman Class Vice President and Treasurer of the Freshman Class. Members also hold offices in such departmental clubs as engineering and agriculture and are active in IFC, Phi Eta Sigma, Fangs and Les Buffons. Four members received the honor of being chosen for Who's Who and three Septemviri are AGR's. Athletically, members are active in varsity athletics as well as intramurals. Socially, the AGR's are enthusiastic to the point of over-exuberance. Of the three finalists for Homecoming Queen, Peggy Edie was our sweetheart and Carolyn Vick was our Rhomate. Alpha Gamma Rho is known for spontaneous parties as well as planned functions—such as Spring Round-up. Each year the bonds of brotherhood are strengthened by a senior trip during Spring Break. Thus is life at Alpha Gamma Rho which provides for lasting friendships and memories.

Caught in the terminal stages of post-adolescent identity crises, Delta Sigma Phi Fraternity attempts its movement once again toward recovery. The hard core of conservatists will keep together and through them the fraternity will regain its identity. This core has done a lot of planning and only the future will tell what will come to be. Always ones to liken to athletics, this may again prove to be their uprising. The Carnation Ball proved again to be good times for all the brothers. Their pinning ceremonies are still enough to deter any Delta Sig from getting pinned. Even so, this was a year of records. The Delta Sigs are looking to the future in hopes of better things to come.

The oldest house built for a fraternity at MSU—the "Spookhouse" —is alive and well. With the invaluable assistance of their past Stardust Queen, the Spooks established an auxiliary, the Little Spirits of Kappa Sigma, to bring even more spirit into their house. Their Alumni Advisor—Glenn Black—was named "Man of the Year" for his work for the chapter at the Centennial Conclave of Kappa Sigma. Pledges airmailed to Billings, the Outhouse, the annual "Stardust Ball," a Christmas party for a family not as lucky as they, a fine showing in athletics and scholastic achievement rounded out a tremendous year for the Kappa Sigs.

With our newly redecorated main floor, the Brothers of Montana Beta Chapter of Phi Delta Theta were spurred on to many resounding accomplishments. In intramurals the Phi's were first in football, second in volleyball and promise to finish high in skiing and softball—as always, striving to be with the top at the finish. Climbers scholastically, we show our worth here, too! Always ready for a good time, we are known for having the best parties on campus—some of which are the Fall Party, Roman Orgy and Spring Woodsies. Phi Delta Theta stresses brotherhood and involvement for all, which allows us to have a diversified membership and friendships for a lifetime.

ΦΣΚ

With change a necessity in every organization, this year the Phi Sigs, following the trend of the modern Greek system, removed some of the archaic ideas that have existed in the fraternity system. The brothers did very well in intramurals—winning basketball again and placing high in other sports. Helped by Ann Lee—our Moonlight Girl—and the other Moonshine Girls, the Phi Sigs did their part for college fun with their many weekend flings.

What does it mean to be a Pike? Is it participating in intramural sports and coming out on top? Or is it using "Miss Carriage" as a personnel carrier for M-76 Water Balloon Launchers—the target, sorority sun decks? Perhaps it is organizing Pi Week to raise March of Dimes dollars so that others might walk. Maybe it's the Dream Girl Formal, Continental Wine Dinner, or Christmas Party. Or Pikettes with their surprise breakfasts, softball games and great enthusiasm for the house. Pi Kappa Alpha means all of these things, but most of all it is brotherhood—a brotherhood that shows respect for a member's individualism instead of alienating him by trying to change his ways.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon, established at MSU in 1919, celebrated its 50th anniversary on the MSU campus this year. Working together, our brothers have organized some of the best annual events on campus—a few of which include the Pajama Dance, the Sig Alph Olympics, the Pledge Dinner-Dance, our Mother's Day Dinner and the Pledge Sneak. Sigma Alpha Epsilon's Greek leadership has been evidenced in the last few years by many things, including the possession of the '68-'69 Greek Week Trophy and the '67-'68 and '68-'69 overall Intramural Sports trophies. The Little Sisters of Minerva must be included as one of our greatest assets. Even more helpful and important to us is our housemother, Mrs. Evelyn Zimmerer, who is the only housemother living in a fraternity on this campus. Working with people to carry on the many activities of fraternity life greatly broadens the education of the men of Sigma Alpha Epsilon through a variety of exciting experiences. Perhaps our most outstanding feature is the variety of personalities Sigma Alpha Epsilon has attracted. Anyone is welcome at any time to stop by and share our hospitality.

The common bond of over 100 men from many different places and backgrounds gives Sigma Chi a unity unique in itself. The house provides an atmosphere in which these men can live and work together and by so doing can excel both individually and as a fraternity.

Sigs actively participate in varsity athletics, intramurals, student government and in many other campus and civic activities.

Primarily a social fraternity, Sigma Chi has a pledge sneak and a fireside every quarter. Highlights of the year are Derby Days, the Sweetheart Ball and the spring party.

The Sweetheart of Sigma Chi, our Derby Darling, along with Connie—our Saint Bernard mascot—all help to make Sigma Chi the fraternity that it is.

Sigma Chi combines the benefits of a fraternal brotherhood, a wide array of social events and the proper amount of scholarship to help mold the character of each man who wears the White Cross.

In an age of rather stereotyped social fraternities, Zeta Nu chapter of Sigma Nu Fraternity represents a diversified group of young men who are working together under the common bonds of honor and brotherhood. The members are representative of a random sampling of today's society, and they express wide and varied interests in our modern world and impact which that world will have upon their lives. By working and living with men of a wide social background, they feel that they are better able to understand themselves and to serve the community in which they live.

The men behind the "red door of brotherhood," the brothers of Sigma Phi Epsilon, are looking to the future with great anticipation. The past four years have been filled with success and improvement in almost every aspect of fraternity life, and the 1969-70 school year was no exception. Aside from the functions, which are always a huge success, there were individual accomplishments which would not have been possible without the aid of the other brothers. Examples such as Fangs, BMOC for two consecutive years, and this year two Sig Eps being student senate officers, show the spirit of brotherhood in Sigma Phi Epsilon. The most cherished success story is that of the fulfillment of the ideals of brotherhood at Montana Beta Chapter. It takes time to develop a true feeling of togetherness among the brothers of a chapter, but when the goal was reached, it showed that the wait was worth it. Montana Beta is a young chapter, but now it can join the more than 200 Sig Ep chapters who know the true meaning of brotherhood. Prospects for the future include a new home on Greek Way! Pictured left is Mrs. Henry Gay, Sig Ep Housemother, and bottom left is President Mike Galvin.

The development of brotherhood has been aided to a great extent by the Girls of the Golden Heart. This is a select group of girls who have shown a distinct interest in Sigma Phi Epsilon. There are not many of these girls because few young women measure up to gain a unanimous vote from the brothers.

Jule, Ocepek, and Suarez
Teachers or Professionals?

Walter Jule:

An artist should work in situations that reveal to him the greatest number of overlapping influences. I'm interested in helping art achieve absolute determination by releasing it into the "visible" world. Collaboration has the potential of uniting more diverse tendencies in a single work. Once a student in an attempt to insult me said, "Everybody around here knows that if a student is really interested in art you will encourage him to develop in every possible way; but, if someone lacks interest or ideas you will have nothing to do with him." What a wonderful thing to say.

Louis Ocepek:

Teaching: Many people interested in making some form of visual statement are unable to shed the vestages of other art images they have seen—either work by their contemporaries or museum artifacts. As a teacher I have attempted to help individuals discover and make visible a personal form of expression.

Design: We have developed a program of design education which points out the inseparable nature of the designed environment. In the course of the program, example is made of the many random design decisions which are grossly evident in the immediate area. Despite reports to the contrary, Bozeman is not beautiful.

Printmaking: The printmaking workshop is equipped to allow the artist to develop his visual ideas in a professional situation. We have made the facility available and usable. The student is largely responsible for the images which eminate from it.

Future: I am, of course, interested in my development as an artist-designer. In my present position it is exceedingly difficult to become associated with invigorating attitudes and ideas. It is also difficult to maintain standards of professionalism and excellence when these qualities are not very popular. In the near future I hope to be involved more completely in the practice of design and the making of art.

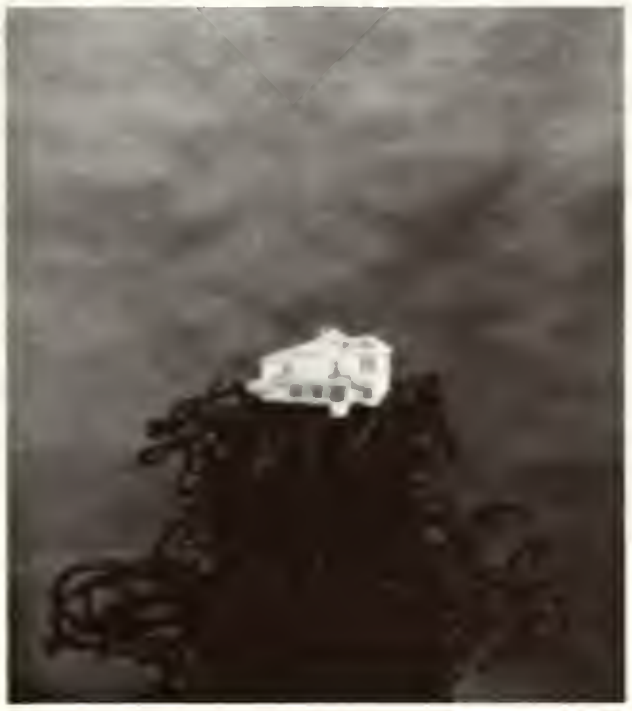
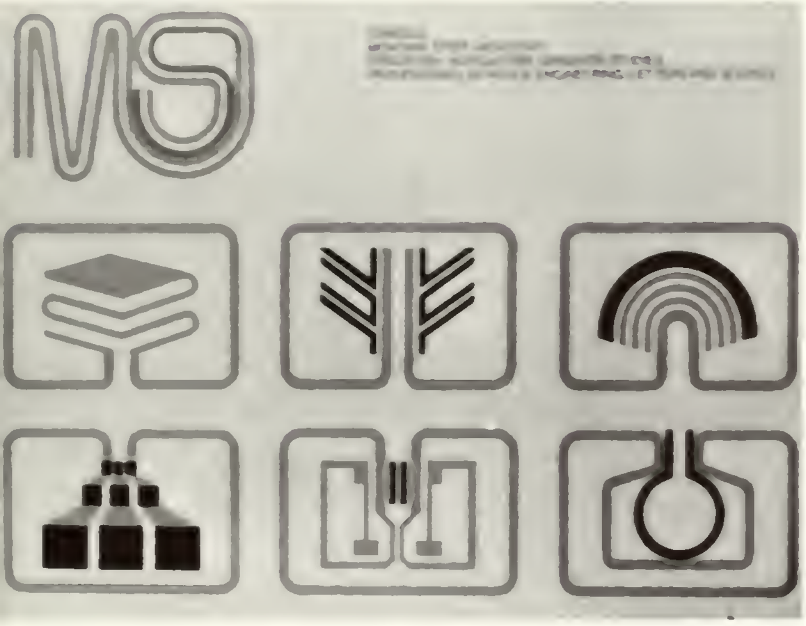
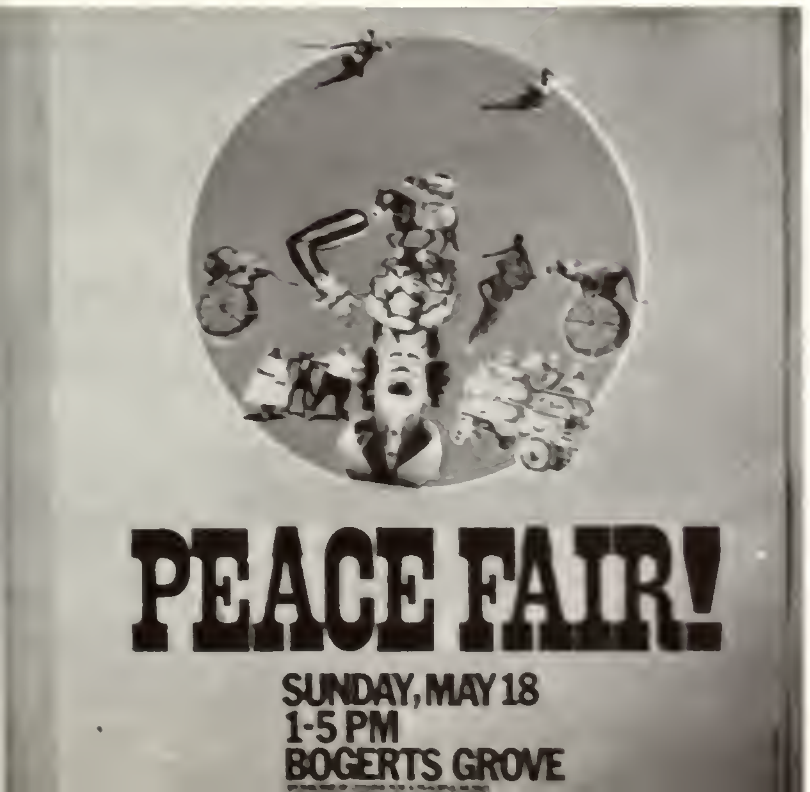
Richard Suarez:





My profession is art and design and for the last four years my occupation has been teaching at MSU. I attempt to destroy the preconceptions of art and design that students bring with them to the University, and to convince many of them that they will never be artists and designers. I hope that a few of them will learn to see the non-reality of conformist "reality" and the reality of "non-reality." Art is concerned with doing something, not saying something.



Ron Perrin

Ron Perrin, Assistant Professor of Philosophy at MSU, received his undergraduate degree in philosophy at Northwestern University near Chicago. While enrolled at the University of California at San Diego and working on his doctoral dissertation, Perrin studied at Heidelberg, Germany. He is preparing his dissertation under the direction of Herbert Marcuse, a German philosopher. According to Perrin, Marcuse's philosophy can be seen as an attempt to highlight the liberating features of Hegel's philosophy, Freud's psychoanalytic theory and Marx's revolutionary theory by focusing upon their mutual insights and concepts.

Now is a decisive period in the history of civilization—and possibly in the history of the human race. In the past, man's decisions were not really as momentous as they are today. Now, through our decisions, we can either end life or move it to a higher level. The decisiveness of our decisions is reflected in the polarization that is evident in America. Most simply, deeds are important.

Freedom will become a reality for the first time during the next 50-year period, or will cease to be a concern at all. There are two possibilities in the future: (1) a "programmed" man who will not be concerned about freedom, and who will be a "happy, contented" cipher; or (2) a situation of increasing autonomy and self-determination.

Technology has provided the conditions for the greater realization of freedom. But, there are not reasons to believe that we have reached the "apex" of social organization with monopoly-capitalism. Our economic system is organized on human labor power. With a more sophisticated technology, human labor power is not a necessary or crucial feature.

Utopias have always had an unreal connotation. In the future—if man questions what we have, adjusts social systems and utilizes human resources—he will be able to fulfill human priorities. Ideas, such as freedom and equality, can become a reality.

We must achieve some sort of perspective as to where we are in terms of our history and of our future. We must recognize that the two will be fundamentally different. Our past is a preface for something else—in Marcuse's phrase, "the end of utopias," as a glorious but, in essence, unrealizable state. As what men can become is increasingly determined only by the limits of the imagination, the future will require a certain amount of daring willingness to entertain radical alternatives.

Pollution

With an increasing awareness of the necessity for environmental quality, demands for pollution control in Montana and throughout the nation became more adamant this year. The causes of pollution are varied, but they usually can be traced to the effects of the US industrial-consumer based economy. As pointed out by many government officials, Americans may have to make sacrifices in the areas of comfort and convenience to insure that a balance between the environment and industry is maintained.

In Montana, demands for environmental quality were directed at several companies, including Anaconda Company, Hoerner-Waldorf Mill in Missoula, and the Rocky Mountain Phosphate Company in Garrison. For several years, a battle has been raging between the Rocky MountainPhosphate Company, and Garrison residents and the State Board of Health. The Board of Health is the enforcing agency for the Clean Air Act of Montana passed in 1967, but after forcing compliance with its order to shut down the plant at Garrison, the Board seemed unable to cope with the plant's reopening after a state supreme court ruling favorable to the plant. Anaconda Company faced opposition to their request for easement on state lands in the Alice Creek area near Lincoln. Concern was voiced by environmental groups throughout Montana that Anaconda would not take necessary precautions in its mining activities planned for the area. Several Land Board members requested that Anaconda's plans be made public and forced further hearings on the matter. Two tri-board hearings were scheduled for March and April, but no questions or interrogations directed at Anaconda by the public were to be allowed. At Missoula, which has the worst smog problem in Montana, the Hoerner-Waldorf Mill has been blamed by the public for a major portion of the problem. No action directed at the Mill had been taken by state agencies by the end of Winter Quarter, although the problem had been increasingly publicized.

Vietnam

The United States continued this year to participate in an "undeclared" war in the Southeast Asian country of Vietnam. Although US President Richard Nixon ordered several withdrawals of American troops from that country during the past year and initiated a plan to "vietnamize" the war by preparing the South Vietnamese to take over many of the ground combat duties, demands—from what Nixon and Vice-President Spiro Agnew call a "vocal minority"—for immediate withdrawal of American troops increased. Such demands were "vocalized" in mass demonstrations on college campuses and in major US cities during the 1969-70 school year.

Another "undeclared" war—and one that had not been much publicized and which, in fact, seemed to be a "secret" war—was brought to the attention of the American public during the winter of 1970. This war—in Laos—was made public after demands for the release of information on US involvement there were made by several members of Congress and the mass media. Governmental officials insisted that such involvement was necessary to aid the efforts in South Vietnam, and that such involvement was solely that of air support. Ground combat deaths were explained as occurring only because of Communist guerrilla action and the need to protect one's self from these attacks.

All—destined to be Gods
But—fearing loneliness

Compromising with selfishness
We return to the shadows
of what we are

Give reality to your emotions
Become—Your experiences
For life carries the power to destroy
So search
For the perspective

Orient self with self
Wear proudly the costumes
of your feelings

Do not retreat from sincerity
Confront the temptations
of tradition

O' Don't you see
You must suffer
Only then will you become self
And—Only then will you keep from becoming
The disciple of Mediocrity

All — destined to be Gods
But — fearing loneliness.

Compromising with selfishness
We return to the shadows
of what we are

Give reality to your emotions
Become — Your experiences
For life carries the power to destroy
So search
For the perspective

Orient self with self
Wear proudly
the costumes
of your feelings

do not retreat from sincerity
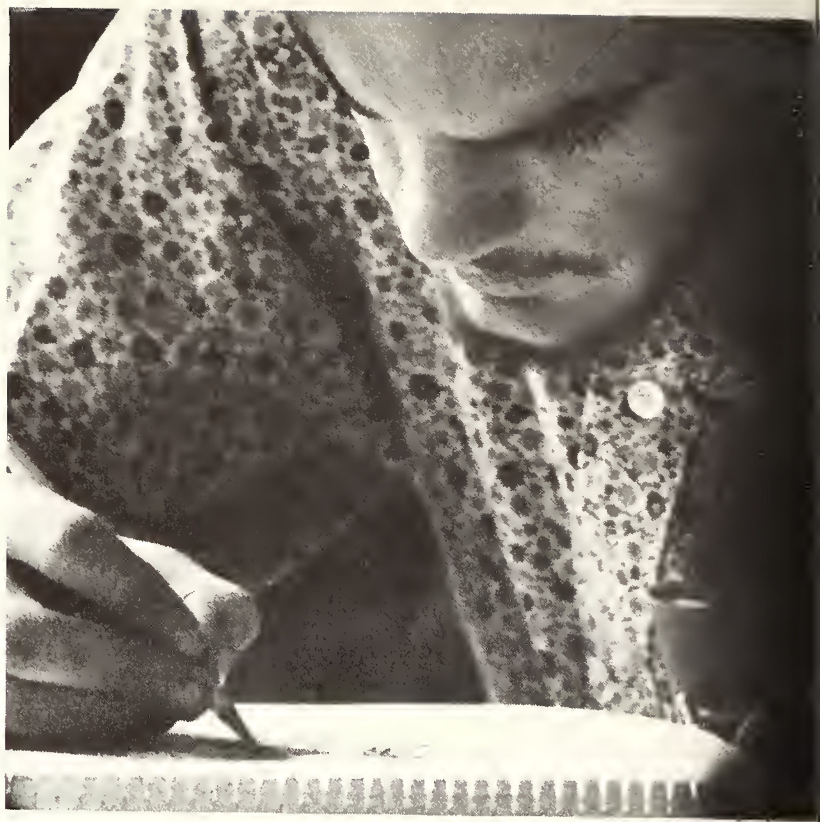
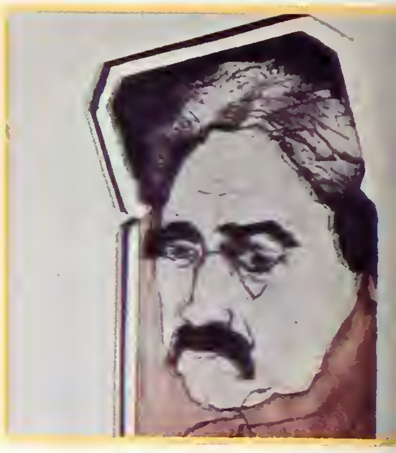
confront the temptations
of tradition





O' Don't you see?
You must suffer
Only then will you become self
And — only then will you
Keep from becoming
The disciple of mediocrity

Letter from the Editor

To be of any value a publication such as the Montanan must justify its existence. As I sit back and review the book—now in its completed form—this thought is of paramount importance to me. I believe that the book is beginning to show some justification. But, this justification must grow, and its growth must not be impaired by any of the archaic standards that used to govern what a "good yearbook" was. If it is impaired by these archaic standards as has been the case in the past, the college yearbook may as well be put away with the raccoon coat.

I must say that the experience of editing the book gave me a few things to remember for the rest of my life—such as, learning how to live on aspirin and beer; watching Ann Carlson retouch prints; marveling at the creativeness of our layout staff doing things like putting the opera "Carmen" in the middle of the football section; watching ace photographers develop film with the lights on; and learning how to go for four and five days without sleep.

From an overall viewpoint, I would say the effort was worth it. But, without the efforts of a few key people (whom I won't mention by name because they know who they are) all my efforts would have been in vain. To these key people—both on the Montanan staff and at Taylor Publishing Company—go my sincerest thanks.

—Don Pilotte, Editor, 1970 Montanan
